'Maggot Pete' jailed

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A RUNAWAY conman who sold meat to a Milton Keynes factory has finally been jailed.

Peter Roberts – known in the meat industry as 'Maggot Pete' – had been on the run for four years after he was caught selling on chicken that was unfit for human consumption.

Two city men were among five of Roberts' gang convicted in 2003 after admitting their part in the scam.

Gary Drewett of St Johns Road, Bletchley, was given a two-and-a-half year prison sentence for adding European health stamps to diseased food destined for supermarkets.

Mark Durrant of Kingsfold, Bradville was given a 12 month suspended sentence for conspiracy to defraud.

Roberts fled the country and was sentenced in his absence.

In March 2001 this newspaper revealed that SJ Watson Meat Ltd, on Clarke Road, Mount Farm, had been raided by police and environmental health officers looking for rancid poultry.

Owner David Watson – who used to sell meat at markets across the South East – was arrested.

The factory had been under surveillance as part of an investigation into Roberts, 73, and his gang.

Milton Keynes Council became involved in the sting after officers from Derbyshire Constabulary followed a lorry filled with meat from a rat-infested plant in Derbyshire down the M1 to Bletchley.

Phil Winsor, chief environmental health officer at the council, said: "Denby Meat Products had been reprocessing condemned chicken.

"One of our traders, inadvertently or not, took meat from Pete.

"We were working with the Food Standards Agency and Derbyshire Constabulary, and we had to do a raid."

No diseased meat was found in the raid.

Mr Watson walked free from a twelve week trial in August 2003 because the jury failed to return a verdict.

Roberts – who appeared at Derby Crown Court last Wednesday – and his gang made around £1 million selling rancid meat to schools, hospitals, old peoples' homes and major supermarket chains.

A five-year prison sentence was imposed on him in 2003 but instead of serving it he went on the run. Now he must serve an additional year for failing to surrender to custody.

Detectives discovered him living a life of luxury in northern Cyprus and he was deported on August 21 this year.

The full story of how Roberts was tracked down will be screened on Inside Out, on BBC 1, on September 19, at 7.30pm.

£1,000 reward to catch hedgehog beating teenagers

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A £1,000 reward has been offered to catch four teenagers who tortured a hedgehog.

Two boys and a girl, aged 14-16, were seen kicking and throwing stones at the animal on the redway under the H7, between Monkston and Middleton, at 10.40pm on Sunday, August 19.

A good samaritan who tried desperately to intervene was turned on by the gang and beaten over the head with a wooden plank.

The animal welfare charity PETA (People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals) is offering the cash to anyone who can provide information leading to the arrest and conviction of the persons responsible.

PETA spokesman Will Wright said: "Animal abusers are cowards. They take their issues out on the most defenceless beings available to them.

"Milton Keynes residents have good reason to be concerned.

"According to leading mental health professionals and the police, perpetrators of violent acts against animals are often repeat offenders who pose a serious threat not only to other animals but also to the community as a whole."

Fine for 'offie' owner who ignored licence conditions

AN off-licence owner has been fined after letting unlicensed staff sell alcohol.

Kathirvelu Komaleswaran, owner of the Best One shop in Annesley Road, Newport Pagnell, was convicted of two offences under the Licensing Act 2003 in Milton Keynes Magistrates Court on Friday (August 24).

The court heard how police had objected when Mr Komaleswaran applied for a new licence in 2005, as they were concerned that 75 per cent of crime and nuisance was alcohol-related in Newport Pagnell.

At a council hearing on September 15, 2005 the licence was granted but three strict conditions were attached.

One was that there should be a personal licence holder on the premises at all times when alcohol is being sold.

However, police found on at least four occasions that alcohol was being sold without a license holder on site.

Milton Keynes Council then carried out an investigation and an Environmental Health officer was served alcohol while there was no-one on the site with a personal licence.

The court also heard that a premises licence was not on site, as required, at the time of the inspection.

Mr Komaleswaran, who lives in Wellingborough, did not appear in court but was convicted of two offences in his absence and fined £5,300 in total with £1456.85 costs.

Motorists: SIDs watching you

DRIVERS in West Bletchley are being urged to slow down as more than 70 per cent break the speed limit.

These are the results of a survey carried out by West Bletchley Council.

The council used two Speed Indicating Devices (SIDs), which record information about traffic speeds and volume.

The devices have been deployed at 28 locations for three days each across West Bletchley.

Results showed that 79 per cent of traffic on Buckingham Road, a residential street with a primary school, was breaking the 30mph limit.

Seventy-five percent of traffic was also speeding on Sherwood Drive, as was 72 per cent on Whaddon Way and 70 per cent on Whalley Drive.

West Bletchley Cllr Liz Campbell said: "Drivers in Milton Keynes are used to driving fast on the grid roads, but they need to be aware that there is a 30mph limit in West Bletchley for a reason.

Campaign: Cllr Liz Campbell with one of the speeding signs that warn motorists

"This is primarily a residential area, with a high number of pedestrians, and it is simply not safe to break the speed limit."

The survey results have been passed to Milton Keynes Council and Thames Valley Police

She added: "The Schools' Review recommends the closure of Rivers Infants School, which will mean that children as young as four years old will be crossing Whaddon Way to a new combined school on Rickley Lane."

A spokesman for MK Council said: "A full consultation on the proposals for schools in West Bletchley will begin shortly... we expect that issues relating to traffic and parking will form part of that process."

Cops quiz man over Oldbrook killing

A 22-YEAR-OLD man has been arrested on suspicion of murdering David Williams in Oldbrook.

Mr Williams was killed at his home in Oldbrook Boulevard on Friday, August 3 and a post mortem found that he died from stab wounds to his neck and chest.

Yesterday morning a suspect was arrested in London and taken to Milton Keynes police station where he was still being questioned by detectives as MK NEWS went to press.

Lawnmower death monk laid to rest

Hundreds pay last respects to Willen Buddhist

BY ALICIA BABAEE

Right: Mourners attend the temple at Willen for the funeral of the Reverend Gyosei Handa

A FUNERAL has taken place for the Buddhist monk who died in a horrific accident as he cut the grass last Tuesday.

Mourners from all over the world attended the ceremony for 50-year-old Reverend Gyosei Handa, who helped to build Willen Lake's Peace Pagoda in 1980.

As exclusively revealed by MK NEWS last week, he was using a tractor-style lawnmower to cut the grass near the temple when he fell and became trapped underneath the heavy machine.

At an inquest opening on Thursday, it emerged that there were witnesses to the accident, including a mother and several children.

Coroner's officer Mel Riley said: "He was seen by witnesses to come off the tractor and seemed to be doing something to the grass-cutting equipment.

"The tractor started to move and dragged the Reverend into the cutting equipment. The tractor continued down the hill and came to rest on the path."

It appears the injuries were mainly to the lower half of his body, with an injury to the head.

He was confirmed dead at 11.55pm.

Rev Handa's mother – who was expecting her son to visit her in Japan last Wednesday – came to Milton Keynes for the funeral.

Last week the tributes were flooding in for the reverend. He had been a monk for 30 years.

Rev Handa – best known for his annual Hiroshima Day lantern ceremonies – presided over the city's lantern ceremony on Monday, August 6.

Willen's Pagoda was the first to be built in the western hemisphere.

His chief nun Reverend Sister Yoshie Maruta said: "He never criticised. He was always calm, always listening to people. He had lots of compassion.

"He would never ask people to do things, but always worked so hard himself. He was always trying to save money.

"This is why he was cutting the grass himself. If the lawnmower needed fixing, he would do it himself."

He was due to visit his elderly mother in Japan today to help her move house.

Dr Ajith DeSilva, part of the Buddhist support group, added: "It is a great loss to Milton Keynes, to the whole community here. He treated everybody the same, any nationality, any religion."

The Nipponzan Myohoji Buddhist order strives for world peace.

Rev Maruta said the Buddhist community's belief in reincarnation would help them at this time.

Car breastfeeding ban for doctor mayor

A MILTON Keynes Partnership (MKP) board member has been awarded £7,000 in compensation because she was banned from breastfeeding by another employer.

Current MKP board member and former Trafford mayor Dr Pauline Lane took Trafford Metropolitan District Council to court after it prevented her from feeding her baby in the mayoral car.

When attending public engagements with her baby, Oscar, she had to drive behind the mayoral vehicle – which carried her chain – in her own car.

It comes in the same week that Milton Keynes Primary Care Trust (MKPCT) launches its breastfeeding awareness scheme.

Dr Lane took Trafford Council to court claiming she was a victim of sexual discrimination.

Manchester County Court ruled in her favour, and ordered the council to pay legal costs amounting to £170,000.

Dr Diane Gray, consultant in public health medicine at the MKPCT, said: "Breastfeeding is the best thing a mother can do for her baby in the first six months of life. It's cheap, clean, convenient and leads to healthier babies.

"More and more public places in Milton Keynes, such as all the libraries, are now proud to be 'breastfeeding friendly'."

Dr Lane originally asked for an apology and a donation to charity, but the council declined. She has now reported the council to the district auditor for wasting public money.

Dr Lane remains an elected councillor in Trafford while carrying out board duties for MKP.

Cigarettes and whisky and wild, wild customers

SIR – With regard to your article relating to sales of alcohol to under-age consumers.

Whereas I agree this is not to be tolerated perhaps the officers who are conducting the investigations should try working in the stores and realise the intimidation, threats of violence and criminal damage which accompany the refusal to serve alcohol and cigarettes to under age people.

They only get paid to serve customers, not to act as front line troops in this battle against under age drinking.

Brian Johnson,
Bletchley.

Blackstuff – not green!

SIR – I thought it wouldn't be long before the green brigade got on their high horse about the widening of the M1 motorway.

When they state that the money could be better spent on public transport they are clearly living in cloud cuckoo land.

Even if the transport system was improved it is not going to stop the vast majority of people still using their cars.

As such there is a desperate need for the M1 to be upgraded along this section and made into four lanes.

Mr P Wilson
Stony Stratford

Please take my cat

SIR – We rescued a cat from the RSPCA in 2003. When we picked him up we were told that he had been checked by their vet and was a little pale but fine to be re-homed.

We took him to the vets after two days as he has a bad ear.

Our vets were disgusted at the poor state he was in. Within a week he had five teeth taken out as he had abcesses and most of his teeth were rotten, he also had an iear infections in both ears due to polyps, which were removed and the ear infections never returned.

While he was at the vets they offered to have a blood test done, which we took up..

Later that day we found out he had FIV and the start of kidney failure.

I contacted the RSPCA as he had came in with six other cats and thought it would be an idea to inform the new owners of the risk of FIV.

I was told to mind my own business and not to cause any trouble otherwise they would remove him from our care.

After a few years of happiness and the occasional visits to the vet Dillon was looking really good and very happy. The vets were very happy with him as he was in fact getting better and not worse.

His kidneys had not worsened and all was fine. Until one night when he escaped out of a bed room window. We spend weeks looking for him putting up posters, etc. but nothing.

Anyway now two years later, we received a letter from our local Cats' Protection League, they had found him

He was only one street away for the whole two years.

A couple down the road had been looking after him.

We are unable to have him back as we now have a dog , and they will not get along.

I have spoken to all the rescue centres around us and they are all going to put him to sleep.

I am begging for help as he is a very loving cat who needs a home to see his last days out without prematurely being put to sleep.

Please help, we are willing to pay for his upkeep if needed .

If you can help please contact me on 07961611149

Hedgehog thugs put us in fear of doing the right thing

SIR – I read with shock your article about the man who was beaten over the head with a wooden plank while trying to stop four teenagers attacking a hedgehog.

I cannot fathom what goes through the heads of some people today that they can carry out such cruel acts.

If these youths are prepared to kick and throw stones at a small, defenceless hedgehog, it is small wonder that they will attack a man in the same way.

It makes you wonder what you would do in the man's situation.

I know my morality would pull me to intervene, but nowadays we never know what will happen.

We can't defend our rights, or the rights of those around us for fear of the consequences.

Something needs to be done about a society that breeds this kind of behaviour.
Name and address supplied

■ SIR – What sort of society are we living in? (Man beaten trying to save hedgehog, MK NEWS, August 22).

Is it no wonder that people are turning a blind eye to criminal acts when the outcome is likely to be you ending up on the end of a beating.
Name and address supplied

MK Dons in the dark

SIR – While it is great to have a Football League team in the town playing in a new stadium, which must be the envy of many teams in the higher divisions, I find it very disappointing that information on accessing the new stadium has been very hard to come by.

As a former season ticket holder at the National Hockey Stadium, I did not feel inclined to renew my season ticket 'blind' until such information was made known.

Still having not heard or read anything, I wrote to the club last month asking for details of car parking arrangments.

I asked how much is available and at what charge, where else can you park if the car park is full, where the set down and pick up points are if you are getting a lift there and back and if you travel by bus, what buses go to the stadium and where they stop and pick up, etc.

Unfortunately the club, for whatever reason, has not replied so I am only a little wiser having since read that the charge for car parking is £5 per match.

This is far too much for my OAP budget on top of the cost of a ticket plus a match-day programme I'm afraid.

David Hammond
Beeward Close, Greenleys

Heard and seen

SIR – I write in response to the story headlined 'Picture power' in your newspaper last week.

I want to congratulate young Matthew Heard for his painting, which is to be displayed at the Bankside Gallery.

He puts hundreds of modern day artists, who earn thousands for their work, to shame.

He could sell his stuff and make a fortune. And I think he should.

He's a wonderful little chap.
Name and address supplied

High-flying saviours

SIR – I think it is excellent that the crew of the Warwickshire and Northamptonshire Air Ambulance are being awarded for the work they did saving a young girl after a dog attack.

I have friends who have been helped by the crew, and believe people who do such a vital job should be thanked for their efforts.

The little three-year-old girl is one of many people to be saved by their magnificent efforts.

Mr S Jones
Bletchley

Total abstinence

SIR – How frustrating it is to hear that people continue to drink drive despite all the warnings and media campaigns showing the terrible consequences it can have.

I had a friend who came very close to ending his life and killing his three young passengers when he drove home drunk after a night out. He crashed his car and was lucky that everyone escaped with minor injuries. That man learnt his lesson the hard way.

Friends and family can help stop these people from driving after a drink. There is always another way to get home.

I for one am in favour of a total ban on drink driving.

Pet cat back after two years on run

AN eight-year-old boy received the perfect birthday surprise when he was reunited with his pet cat – two years after it went missing.

When Jamie Munroe and his mum, Karen Jones, moved to Oldbrook in 2005 they were devastated when six-year-old Gizmo, a grey Siamese-cross, escaped through an open door and disappeared.

But last Wednesday Jamie, who has cerebral palsy, and his family were left stunned when Gizmo was returned by the RSPCA.

Karen said: "Because it had been two years, I had given up hope that we would get him back.

"When he went missing we searched for him for days and put up missing posters around the estate, it was horrible. I was absolutely amazed when we got the call to say that he had been found."

RSPCA animal collection officer Andy Eddy found Gizmo at Sir Frank Markham Community School in Chaffron Way. His collar had become stuck around his middle and he was taken to Walnut Tree veterinary surgery where the vet routinely scanned him for a microchip and found one registering him to Karen Jones from Century Avenue, Oldbrook.

Karen said: "He remembered us because he was sitting in his cage and I called to him and he came to us and started rolling about and purring.

"It must be a sign of good luck because he was found on Jamie's birthday.

"We will definitely keep an eye on him now."

Gizmo will have an operation tomorrow to repair a laceration under his front leg.

Drinker stabbed after leaving pub in early hours

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A MAN was found with stab wounds on Saturday morning six hours after leaving The Eagle pub in Eaglestone.

The 30-year-old man was suffering from a punctured lung when a taxi driver came across him on the V8 near Peartree Bridge at 6.30am.

Detectives investigating the incident are desperate for witnesses to come forward.

Information suggests that three men set upon the victim as he walked through the underpass linking Netherfield and Peartree Bridge at around 6.20am.

It is believed they punched and kicked him before knifing him in the chest.

But detectives say that because the man has been heavily sedated since the attack and does not speak English, they are unsure of the exact details.

They know the man was drinking at The Eagle until 12.30am but are appealing for witnesses to give information about what happened to him between then and 6.30am.

He was taken to MK General Hospital where his condition is described as 'satisfactory'.

Detective Inspector Yvette Hitch from Milton Keynes Police Station said: "We know the man left the Eagle pub at 12.30am and was found by a taxi driver at about 6.30am. We need to find out what has happened to the man between these times.

> We have spoken to a number of witnesses but would like to hear from anyone else who was in the area early on Saturday morning and saw anything suspicious
> – DI Yvette Hitch from Milton Keynes Police Station

"We have spoken to a number of witnesses but would like to hear from anyone else who was in the area early on Saturday morning and saw anything suspicious.

"An area where he was found, as well as an underpass close by, have both been searched by scenes of crime officers, looking for a weapon and other evidence."

The man removed his trainers so he could run away faster, and was found by the taxi driver around 100 metres from where the stabbing seems to have taken place.

It is believed he could be released from hospital by the end of the week.

If you have any information please calll the Police Enquiry Centre on 0845 8 505 505. If you don't want to speak to police or leave your name, call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Website war ends with victory for council site

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

AN independent website about Milton Keynes has failed in an attempt to win access to data on the same terms as Milton Keynes Council's official site.

It follows a four-year battle involving miltonkeynes.com and the council's own site.

The decision to block access by miltonkeynes.com – run by Zero-Now – was made by the government's watchdog on public sector information.

The information the site wanted is held on a council database called the Community Online Information Network.

But the council preferred to make the information available through two official websites, run by a contractor partly owned by the council, milton-keynes.gov.uk and MKWeb.co.uk

In October 2005, miltonkeynes.com complained to the Office of Fair Trading.

The complaint was passed on to the Office of Public Sector Information (OPSI), which is responsible for encouraging the re-use of official data.

They would not uphold the complaint from miltonkeynes.com on the grounds that MKWeb.co.uk was performing part of the council's 'public task'. The OPSI did make recommendations for the way information is handled.

Responding to an article in The Guardian newspaper, the council's head of IT and E-Government Steven Jewell, said: "It was alleged that the council is providing data to one local commercial website, MKWeb.co.uk, without making the same information available to another competitor site, milton-keynes.com run by Zero-Now Ltd.

"This allegation is based on an outdated understanding of the relationship between the council and MKWeb.

Four-year battle: Steven Jewell surfs the MK Council website

"In the days before the introduction of legislation on the re-use of public sector information, the council presented its information and services on the web by using space on the MKWeb.co.uk site.

"But this former approach is being rapidly replaced by a council website Milton-Keynes.gov.uk – virtually completed and with its own brand identity – which is managed by the council solely for council purposes.

"The council website retains many links and a close association with MKWeb and our view is that the close community engagement engendered via this approach is of great value to the whole MK community."

Eric Merner – who owns Zero-Now – declined to comment.

Mr Jewell added: "In 2005/06 the council ran a fair and open procurement competition for services (under EU tendering rules) for the hosting and support of the council's web site; a competition in which, incidentally, Zero-Now declined to participate.

The competition was won by MKWeb Ltd, with whom the council now has a contract for those services."

Pit bull owner is spared jail term

Ten year ban for man whose dogs mauled tiny terrier

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

Free: Mark Bowden leaves court

Top: Harvey the Norfolk terrier, above who was attacked by Mark Bowden's pit bulls, above

A MAN whose American pit bulls ripped a Norfolk terrier apart has escaped a jail sentence.

Mark Bowden, 39, of Chapman Avenue, Downs Barn, was given a six-week suspended prison sentence and a ten-year ban on keeping dogs at Milton Keynes Magistrate's Court on Thursday.

He was also ordered to do 140 hours community service and to pay £500 compensation.

The attack – described by a vet as the worst he'd seen in 15 years of practice – took place on September 26 last year near Willen Lake. The American pit bulls were not on leads and were not wearing muzzles.

Harvey the Norfolk terrier – who later died – was mauled and stretched like a rag doll. A large proportion of his skin had been pulled off.

He needed five hours of emergency surgery and 66 stitches at the Midsummer Veterinary Group in Stantonbury.

Bowden – who was also given a two month curfew for failing to comply with bail conditions – had had the dogs, named Snoopy and Ruby, for a year. He had been warned about keeping them on leads and using muzzles when they had been in fights on previous occasions.

Sentencing Bowden, the magistrates said: "We believe it was downright reckless and negligent. It must have been very distressing to have their dog taken out of their hands in the way it was, and damaged in the way it was.

The veterinary bills totalled £2,275 but due to Bowden's financial situation the amount of compensation he was ordered to pay was reduced.

Harvey suffered multiple bite wounds to his chest, shoulders and neck, with the largest wound covering almost the whole circumference of the neck. But he developed septicaemia and had to be put down.

After sentencing RSPCA Inspector Dave Braybrooke said: "I'm a little disappointed in the length of the ban – I would have liked a life ban.

"In ten years time we could be back in this situation.

"These attacks were horrific and very unnecessary. There is no need to have any dog out of control.

"It should educate people that if something like this happens there is every chance they could end up on the wrong side of a prosecution.

"If anyone's animal has done this, or has a tendency to do things like this, they must use a lead and a muzzle.

"It's not only animals, humans could be affected too."

The pit bulls have been signed over to the RSPCA..

Food delivery firm fined after mice find

THE owner of a food delivery company has been left thousands of pounds out of pocket after council environmental health officers found mice on her premises.

Runa Laila Begun Meah, 25, owner of Mister Chef, appeared before MK magistrates on Friday to admit five offences under the Food Hygiene (England) Regulations 2006.

The court heard that on February 26, a routine inspection by the environmental health team found mice infestation and sub-standard hygiene standards in the premises, a unit in Summerson Road, Bleak Hall.

Ms Meah was fined £400 on each count, and also ordered to pay £1,000 costs

The magistrates said that the fines would have been £600 each, but gave Ms Meah credit for being fully co-operative with the officers, and her early guilty pleas.

An environmental health spokesman said: "Customers should be able to have confidence when ordering delivery food that it has been prepared in a premises meeting the required hygiene standards.

"Sadly, this was not the case at Mister Chef."

Next month the council is launching 'Scores on the Doors', which will enable people to use the internet to see how well their proposed eaterie, restaurant, or takeway rates on a scale of zero to five stars.

Big Doggie Do is just grrrrrrrr-eat

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

DOGS and their owners were wagging their tails this weekend enjoying all things doggie.

Thousands of people turned up to The Big Doggie Do, held at Willen Lake south, to enjoy dog displays, agility and tricks workshops, guided walks, dog grooming, pet etiquette, stalls, refreshments, treasure trails and plenty of doggie demonstrations.

Fun dog shows also took place with prizes for best rescue, cutest puppy, look-a-like and scruffs competitions and, a free doggie bag for all contestants.

The weekend was organised by The Parks Trust and Milton Keynes Council and was supported by Cory Environmental.

All proceeds were donated to Willen Hospice.

Jo Ayers, the Parks Trust's community ranger, said: "The Big Doggie Do was a great success for both two and four-legged visitors.

"Around about 5,000 people turned up at the event and over 150 dogs entered the competitions and training workshops.

" We're also pleased to announce that provisionally eight out of eight rescued dogs are likely to have found new homes and families due to the generosity of visitors at the event. We're really grateful to all stall holders, volunteers and those who donated prizes.

She added: "We love to see dog walkers using our parks and the event was a great way to encourage people to explore new parks and, provide information about dog facilities and the charity's policy on responsible dog ownership and dog bins."

Cyclist, 12, seriously hurt in crash with bus

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A BOY suffered serious injuries after being trapped under a double decker bus.

The accident happened at around 1pm on Thursday on the V7 Saxon Street near Eaglestone.

Witnesses say the child – who is12 years old - cycled across the road into the path of the oncoming bus.

Police, paramedics and firefighters rushed to the scene.

The road was closed while Thames Valley Police carried out investigations.

Inspector Paul Winks, head of roads policing for Milton Keynes, said: "A double decker bus travelling northbound on the V7 by Eaglestone was in collision with a pedal cyclist.

"It is a young male child. He has serious injuries. His family has been notified."

The boy was taken to MK Hospital before being transferred to the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford. His condition was described yesterday as stable.

Two other boys – around the same age - were with him at the time. There were no passengers on the bus.

The incident took place just yards from where 12-year-old Barrie Fraser died on the V7 Saxon Street in December 2003 after being hit by a car.

The road has a 40mph speed limit after Barrie's father Peter led a campaign for it to be reduced from 60mph.

Police are appealing for witnesses. Call 08458 505505 with information.

Accident scene: A police officer makes notes over the bicycle that was in collision with a bus on the V7

Attack victim on the mend

A MAN left in a coma after he was attacked outside a pub is showing signs of recovery.

The 52-year-old man was asked to leave the Lowndes Arms public house in Whaddon at around 9pm on Saturday, August 4.

He left with his female partner and was found shortly afterwards suffering from life-threatening head injuries.

He was taken to Stoke Mandeville Hospital but was transferred to the adult intensive care unit at the John Radcliffe Hospital, Oxford.

He remained in a coma for more than two weeks, but is now showing signs of slow but steady improvement.

A spokeswoman for Thames Valley Police said he is conscious for periods of time, but is still on a ventilator to support his breathing.

Two men aged 40 years old and 22 years old have been arrested and bailed until the end of this week in connection with the assault.

Anyone who witnessed the incident is asked to call DS Keeping at Amersham CID on 0845 8 505 505, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

High fives for GCSEs

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

STUDENTS and staff celebrated some of Milton Keynes' best ever GCSE results.

More than half of the city's GCSE pupils who picked up their results on Thursday gained five or more higher grade passes (grade A* to C) this year, among the best results ever for the borough.

Three schools had their highest ever results and in eight schools the results were an improvement on last year's.

In four schools more than 70 per cent of students gained five or more higher grade passes.

Results at Shenley Brook End were outstanding with 93 per cent of students gaining five or more higher grade passes, a record result for any school in Milton Keynes.

Forty per cent of the pupils gained at least one A/A* grade and several students gained ten or more A/A* grades, with one student gaining 13 A/A* passes.

Every student gained at least one qualification with 95 per cent gaining a higher grade pass in ICT.

At Denbigh school, thirty two students showed outstanding performance with results equivalent to 10 A* grades, with a record 72 per cent gaining five or more higher grade passes.

Sixty-one per cent of students gained five or more higher grade passes including English and Mathematics.

Results were strong in a number of subjects including Science, Engineering, Maths, Business Studies, English, History, German and Drama.

Sarah Parker, headteacher said: "It is a great day for the school as more students than ever are passing at A* to C, and we are proud of the fact that our students have achieved positive outcomes in the core subjects including English, Mathematics and Science.

"These results are a record for Denbigh, showing a year on year increase.

Denbigh students opening their GCSE results

"I acknowledge the support and encouragement of staff which has helped our students to achieve their potential.

"The results are a reflection of the hard work and dedication shown by our students and are a credit to the school. Congratulations to everyone."

Another school celebrating its best-ever results is St Paul's Catholic school where 71 per cent of students achieved five or more higher grade passes.

Three of the students taking Italian have gained results which are in the top five nationally.

At Stantonbury Campus the proportion of students gaining five or more higher grade passes rose.

Of particular note were the results in the Young Apprenticeship in Performing Arts; all eighteen students passed and half gained distinctions (equivalent to one A and one A*) in this new course.

All of them gained their Young Apprenticeship certificate in recognition of their success in work experience and the BTEC in Performing Arts. Two students are in the top five nationally in media studies.

The Art and Design Young Apprenticeship students from a range of schools all gained higher grade passes with over half gaining a distinction or merit. This course was delivered by Milton Keynes College.

Adult learners from across Milton Keynes are celebrating some excellent results gained through the Adult Continuing Education service (ACE), with 80 per cent achieving A*- C and nearly a third gaining an A or A*. Particularly strong were the results in Languages, Art and Design and Mathematics.

Liz Gifford, associate director of the Milton Keynes Economic and Learning Partnership, said: "The excellent results gained by those following the Young Apprenticeship courses were especially pleasing as this initiative provides opportunities for further student success and contributes directly to raising skill levels."

No napping – this is stay a-wakeboarding

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

I HAVE to say I was rather nervous about trying wakeboarding for the first time as I had never experienced anything like it before.

I, like many other Milton Keynes residents, had been down to Willen Lake on a weekend to watch the many professionals that use the WakeMK cable ski making it look so easy – but I knew it wouldn't be.

Wakeboarding is a relatively new sport growing in popularity and I was to be one of the 80-120 people a day (in good weather) who enjoy the adrenaline-pumping activity at Willen Lake.

After getting kitted up with wetsuits (two for me as I was worried about getting cold), and buoyancy aids we started off the FastStart Wakeboarding two-hour training course (£49) with a short onshore lesson.

There were six others in my group who largely seemed to be complete first-timers like myself.

We were shown how to sit on the kneeboards, which you start off on before advancing to the wakeboards, and how to use the cable ski, which allows nine people to ride at the same time all-year-round and is cheaper than riding behind a boat.

We then headed off down to the lake, all of us battling not to be first in line.

I managed to stay quite close to the back so watched the others as they whizzed off from the start point – hoping to learn from their mistakes.

When it came to my turn my heart was going like a rabbit and adrenaline was pumping.

Not quite lift-off: Reporter Laura Hannam feels the pain

The rope pulled me off amazingly fast (just over 20mph) and as I rushed across the water hopping around slightly on the waves. I was enjoying the experience so much I completely forgot to look out for the buoys I was instructed to aim for.

I was miles too far to the left so as the cable went through its junction my rope slackened and tautened quickly pulling me face first into the water.

I was happily surprised to find the water wasn't too cold and swam to the floating walkway to make my way back to the start line for another go.

On my third try, having taken the advice of our instructor Richard Underwood, I made it right around the course with the sense of a small personal victory.

That was until the last buoys when the rope slackened and pulled me again sending me flipping across the water right in front of the instructors and my fellow learners.

Later in the session I moved up to try the wakeboard, which was much more complicated.

I could not quite get the hang of pushing my feet down on to the board to stand up, despite the instructor's good directions.

Many of the other learners were having similar problems, though some of the men had taken to it well and were already zooming around the course.

I would love to have another go at WakeMK as I'm sure with a little more practice I could be up on the wakeboard and shooting around the lake is an incredibly exhilarating experience.

Flippin' 'eck: All wet, but all smiles

Wakeboarding is also a great spectators sport, so I would advise those who have a free Sunday on September 2 to get down to Willen Lake and watch WakeMK Wakeboard and Water-ski centre's third annual competition 'The Summer Jam'.

It's free for spectators and attracts a great many people to the lake.

Last year's competition attracted some of the biggest names in the wakeboarding world and this year is set to be even bigger and better.

The competition involves plenty of aerial tricks, explosive jumps and big crashes.

During the afternoon the riders will be on the cable together riding as well as they can to impress the judges and get through to the nerve-wracking finals where they will have just two runs to score their points.

■ For more information on the Summer Jam competition and how to get started in wakeboarding call the lake on 01908 870197 or visit www.WakeMK.com

Changes to Enduring Power of Attorney Rules

From October 2007, the ability to create an Enduring Power of Attorney will be banished forever.

Existing arrangements will be allowed to continue, but from October 2007 anyone wanting to put control of their money and property into the hands of someone else will have to follow a new procedure.
Neves are advising clients to plump for an Enduring Power of Attorney before it is too late because in October 2007 it will become much more complex. An EPA set up before the changes take place will remain valid.
The point of the Enduring Power of Attorney is to choose someone while you are well to look after your affairs when you aren't.
As things stand you can draw up a basic Power of Attorney to have someone act for you and help with straightforward tasks such as fetching money from the bank. But it runs out once you become unable to manage your affairs.
That's where the Enduring Power of Attorney or EPA comes in. You hand power over your property and money to someone else you trust. The power can start right now while you are well if you want it to, but the important feature of the Enduring Power of Attorney is that it continues when you're unable to manage.

The EPA is to be replaced by a new Lasting Power of Attorney which will come in 2 forms. The first is completely new. It covers decisions over health and welfare. The second deals with property and money as before.
However, the Lasting Power of Attorney will only be valid once it is registered with what's called the Office of the Public Guardian and a new fee paid to the Public Guardianship Office. The new fee is likely to be higher.
Granting a power of attorney is such a significant step that many people prefer to seek the help of a solicitor.

Are we there yet? The new welcome sign entering Fenny Stratford from Simpson

Fenny firms in a road sign ruckus

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

SIGNS welcoming people to Bletchley have been put up... as you drive into Fenny Stratford.

The signs saying 'Welcome to Bletchley – Home of the Codebreakers' have ruffled feathers in the Fenny community.

The £30,000 project is the result of a joint agreement between West Bletchley Parish Council and Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council.

But as well as being installed at every route into Bletchley, one has been put up on Simpson Road as you drive into Fenny Stratford.

Fenny resident and businessman Jon Gregory is demanding that the sign is taken down.

He said: "The business community of Fenny Stratford finds it incomprehensible that, following its recent hard work to promote the town, some bureaucrat without any local knowledge has taken it upon themselves to erect these misleading signs.

"However, I am confident that the situation will be resolved in one of two ways.

"We will give the local authority every opportunity to remove these signs, failing which, I have a hotline to the infamous Angle-grinder Man in London."

Bletchley and Fenny Stratford town clerk Lisa Courtney said that, at a later date, signs would be put up behind the 'Welcome to Bletchley' ones, to define exact areas.

But David Kwiatkowski, environmental projects officer at West Bletchley Parish Council, disagrees.

He said: "It's no big deal, it could be changed. But I'm struggling to see what the problem is.

"It was put before Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council and West Bletchley Parish Council and nobody queried it.

"We wanted all the people in the Bletchley area – Central Bletchley, Far Bletchley, West Bletchley and Fenny Stratford – to feel a sense of belonging to Bletchley."

He added that the highways authority at Milton Keynes Council put the signs up.

But Milton Keynes Council said it was instructed exactly where to put them.

The Point coffee bar hits the spot

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

'We're in here because it's about young people': Rob Ward from Milton Keynes Council at The Point

A YOUTH centre is being set up in The Point.

Primarily a coffee bar, the centre is being designed and set up by a 12-strong committee of 15-to-19-year-olds .

Already a pool table, fussball table and dance machine have been installed.

Named The Spot at The Point, the coffee bar will also be home to a moveable stage and dance floor ready for open mic nights and performances by bands, dance acts and performing arts groups.

It will be aimed at youngsters aged between 13 and 19-years-old.

The youths setting the centre up have been given £35,000 to spend from Government funding given to Milton Keynes Council.

They have bought new sofas, funky cushions, paint and a sound system. It will be open by October half term.

Eventually youngsters will be able to take part in fun activities such as urban art workshops and there will even be an IT suite.

They will also be invited to influence the programme by making suggestions themselves.

Rob Ward, XXXjob titleXXX at the council, said: "If we were starting from scratch we would not necessarily want what we've got here.

"But all the buses in the city go past our front door.

"If young people are going to come in here, we've got to make it exciting.

"This is being done well, it isn't going to be a 'make-do' project, we are providing something of a good quality."

Services such as Brook will be invited to use the centre to offer support to young people.

It will also be used as a way of getting young people into employment and training, with the offer of advice on careers and their futures.

The council's youth service will pay for staffing and running costs, but tis looking for further funding.

Mr Ward added: "We're in here because it's about young people, we're not in it for profit, we're not a business.

"Initial plans are to open it up for three nights during the week and on a Saturday, with a view to opening more."

Volunteers are needed to help out in the youth centre, and would be good experience for people who want to get into youth work. To volunteer, call 01908 253210.

BETFAIR TURBO TENNIS

BETFAIR Turbo Tennis is a new and innovative concept that pits the world's best tennis players from past and present against each other in a head-to-head, sudden death competition in a format that is fast and furious.

MK NEWS has teamed up with the organisers of Betfair Turbo Tennis to offer two lucky winners tickets to this high-paced, adrenalin-charged event.

The tournament, which will be held at the O2 Arena in London on Saturday, September 15, is played on one day, on one court, with only one winner.

World-class players including Tim Henman, Andy Murray, Jamie Murray, James Blake, Pat Cash and Goran Ivanisevic will compete over the course of the afternoon to try and avoid elimination. The event does not follow the traditional rules of tennis, with matches lasting a maximum of 30 minutes and music, hooters, brightly coloured clothing and plenty of audience interaction a must.

It promises to be intense, adrenalin-charged and above all extremely entertaining tennis.

Can the players handle the pressure or will they fall apart under the spotlight?

MK NEWS has two pairs of tickets to give away, a first prize worth £70 and a second prize worth £40.

For more information about the event visit www.betfairturbotennis.com.

To buy tickets call 0871 984 0002, or visit www.theO2.co.uk

Vandalised garages repaired 34 times

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

MORE than £4,000 of taxpayers' money has been spent on repeatedly repairing vandalised garages in one city street.

The garages at the back of Walnut Drive and Aylesbury Street in Bletchley have been a haven for antisocial behaviour for years.

On Wedneday, August 8 they were boarded up following an arson attack the day before. By August 10 they had been broken into again.

Former councillor Tony Mabbott has spent years lobbying the council over the garages.

Since April 2006 Milton Keynes Council has repaired the garages 34 times.

But Mr Mabbott has been pushing for full refurbishment works to be carried out instead of repairs. The council has refused to do this.

They have long been inflicted with drinking and littering and have been torched on many occasions.

In an email to Milton Keynes Council Mr Mabbott said: 'Thanks to whoever was responsible for boarding up and painting the damaged garages.

'Unfortunately, by Friday two of the boarded up garages had had the boarding ripped off and left in the main forecourt and I suspect the others will follow unless further enforcement/preventative action is taken. Is such action being planned?

'At least four of the doors in other garages appear to have been forced and may also be on their way to being permanently removed – are there any plans to make these safe?'

In a response, council worker Derek Beaumont said: 'In terms of the study into the future use of garage areas, I am expecting the report by the end of this month.

'Once we have reached this stage, we will consult local residents, those who are renting garages in that block and other stakeholders such as Neighbourhood Action Groups.

'We will continue to board up those garages where doors are being broken.

"It is my view that we need to have a long-term plan for all the 'problem' garage sites, and that rushing into action to knock garages down is not the necessarily answer.

'Naturally, I am loathe to spend unnecessary funds on boarding garages up but in the short-term that appears to be the most practical solution.'

Mr Beaumont aims to reach an agreed solution before the end of the year.

Thames Valley Police force has been asked to patrol the area more frequently.

> It is my view that we need to have a long-term plan for all the 'problem' garage sites, and that rushing into action to knock garages down is not the necessarily answer

MK BUSINESS

Firm is celebrating 25 years of selling ideas

THIS month, Emberton Dale Advertising Ltd, Milton Keynes' principle full service marketing agency, celebrated 25 years of operation in the city.

To mark the significant industry milestone, founder, creative director and company chairman John Emberton hosted a celebratory dinner for staff and was presented with a traditional piece of artwork in remembrance of the company's inception in 1982.

Over the last 25 years Embertion Dale has expanded from offices in Neath Hill, to Linford Wood and finally to Central Milton Keynes where a team of 20 staff work with a diverse client base from SME's, through to large blue chip organisations and the public sector.

Interestingly Emberton Dale is the only agency in the region recognised by the Institute of Advertising Practitioners as offering 'everything under one roof' and having won over £3 million in extra business last year alone, the company is set to continue its success.

Team spirit: Emberton Dale Advertising staff celebrate 25 years in the city

John Emberton, who originally set up the company with his business partner Mike Dale, explained that the industry in 1982 was a wholly different age: "In those days we didn't have computers, everything was hand rendered and we used drawing boards.

"Actually, the company's first computer wasn't bought until 1987 and cost a massive £11,000.

"However, our locale in Milton Keynes was a definite advantage. With a thriving local business environment, and great transport links to our international clients, we were able to adapt and respond to clients needs, introduce new services and attract fresh young talent."

Emberton Dale is proud of its relationships with clients some of which have been retained for over 10 years. Xerox has commissioned Emberton Dale concepts for 13 years while ParcelForce was a client for nine, and English Partnerships has been a client for more than five years.

"We have a strong team that love what they do," added John..

"Every member of the team is involved in caring for its clients accepting resonsibility in achieving the best possible results.

"Clients value the fact they can come to us and get the advice and professionalism they need using the right discipline for the job.

"25 years has been a fantastic achievement in this industry and we look forward to our continued success."

Emberton Dale has recently appointed award-winning art director Richard Williams from International agency group, Publicis.

Mortgage shop open for business

A NEW mortgage shop has opened in Newport Pagnell.

David and Paul Hayworth have expanded the Mortgage Advice Bureau franchise and the mortgage shop in St Johns Street aims to provide the most suitable mortgage for people buying property, buying to let or looking for a better deal on remortgages.

As part of the service, all customers purchasing a property who arrange their mortgage through Mortgage Advice Bureau will be offered buyer's protection insurance at no extra cost, this provides up to £400 of cover for solicitors costs, valuation or mortgage arrangement fees in the event the purchase falls through due to gazumping, an adverse valuation leading to a devaluation of five per cent of more, or if you are made unemployed or are relocated by your employer.

David Hayworth, said: "Being conveniently located, we want people to come in and speak to us first about their mortgage requirements. We are open 9.30am to 6.30pm Monday to Friday and 9.30am to 4.30pm on Saturday."

Mortgage Advice Bureau, is one of the UK's leading independent mortgage brokers with over 400 offices nationwide offering comprehensive advice and recommendation from over 4,000 mortgages schemes.

YOUR GUIDE TO LEISURE IN YOUR CITY

Chris Puleston from Soma

WORLD PICNIC

Campbell Park Amphitheatre
Sunday, September 2

DO you know your Bollywood from belly dancing or your bhangra from bluegrass?

If not you can celebrate the sights, sounds and tastes of the world all in one place – Campbell Park.

More than 100 live performers will unite 20 countries and communities to bring together Milton Keynes' very own World Picnic.

Take a picnic, relax and soak up the sounds of African choirs, British folk music, bhangra, salsa, blues and traditional drumming.

Enjoy dance acts, including Bollywood and bellydancers, traditional storytelling and indulge in a little international retail therapy all for free.

Craig McLeish, festival co-ordinator, said: "Milton Keynes has amazingly talented performers from different countries and cultures. The World Picnic is about sharing these sounds and offering something new for music lovers.

The World Picnic is organised by a number of local community organisations, including The Parks Trust, Milton Keynes Council, Cultures Unite and KiK Music.

OPEN UNIVERSITY

Walton Hall campus
Until September 28

THE Open University presents a celebratory art exhibition and arts walks at Walton Hall campus as part of the city's 40th birthday celebrations.

Members of the public are invited, during normal working hours, to view the exhibition which features a combination of pieces from the university's own art collection and specially placed work by ten local artists.

The works include acrylics, indoor and outdoor sculptures, screenprints and digital video installations.

Featured local artists include Paul Anand, Tom Calnan, Jean Carabine, Karen Cham and Edna Eguchi Read. Their work is joined by pieces from Anthony Hayes, Graham Mills, Ian Reynolds, Jessica Rost and Ruth Salter.

The walks are co-ordinated by the University's Artwork Group.

Some of its members will be leading guided art walks on Thursday, August 30; Friday, September 14 and Monday, September 17.

Walks will begin at 12.35pm at the University's main reception in the Berrill Building.

An additional walk on Thursday, September 6, to mark Heritage Open Days, will also begin at 12.35pm. Booking is essential and can be made to estates-artwork-group@open.ac.uk

Visitors are asked to sign the Art Walk's visitors' book at the main reception before starting the walk.

The Art Walk's celebration evening will be held on Thursday, September 27; this event will also include a guided walk from 6pm – booking is essential.

The Climate Challenge Show

If you are interested in climate change issues and finding out more about reducing CO2 emissions, come along to The Climate Challenge Show from 14 – 16 September in Middleton Hall.
This show will feature all kinds of companies involved in reducing CO2 emissions including renewable energy providers, environmentally friendly product suppliers and a wide variety of organisations involved in this highly topical area.
It should appeal to all the family with give aways, competitions, interactive games and information about how we can all work together to do little things to reduce our burden on the environment.
Visit www.icaremk.org.uk and find out about how you can get involved and make a difference.

Back to School made easy

CAFE DEL MAR

Energy 52

OH look, a song that's been in and out of the record shops almost as often as the staff that work there. How very boring.

When will they stop re-issuing this and come up with something new, you might think?

Well, if you ask me, this is one of the few songs that actually deserves to be unearthed every few years, because it's wonderful.

It's that rarest of creatures, a dance track that cannot under any circumstances be given a duff remix.

Usually, when somebody's given a new song to play around with, the first thing they do is rip out the tune, create a new one and whack the vocals on top.

Cafe Del Mar is a little bit more of a challenge in that it doesn't have any vocals, so you have to keep the melody largely intact otherwise all you're doing is creating a new song, and you really don't want to do that when the tune's as good as this one.

Yes, it's repetitive, no, it doesn't do very much when you really think about it, but it's a properly uplifting tune that doesn't use any gimmicks or cheap tricks and it cheers me up whenever I hear it.

JEALOUS GIRLS

The Gossip

YEAH, I already reviewed this one a few months ago, but that was when it was originally meant to come out.

Funny how surprisingly successful singles can throw a spanner in the works, innit?

Unfortunately, I've got a nasty feeling that this one's going to vanish without trace just like Listen Up did, purely because it's not Standing In The Way Of Control.

Similar thing happened to the Kaiser Chiefs, they've released two singles since Ruby, but guess which one still gets the airplay?

I really hope I'm wrong though, because this is a great little number. It moves along quite merrily for three minutes, and if any better singers than Beth Ditto have appeared this year I'd like to hear them (sit down Kate Nash).

Tell you what, prove me wrong. Go out, buy it and put it in the chart. Go on, you probably won't regret it and even if you do, you can always say I told you to buy it, making it my mistake and not yours.

James Blunt

I'M five years old again. It's 1979, not 1973 (I wasn't around in 1973, but then if you're any good at maths you'll be way ahead of me there).

It's a hot summer's day, in fact it's almost exactly the sort of summer's day we haven't had this year. I'm sitting in the back seat of my mum and dad's Austin Maxi, partly because I'm too young too drive - partly because I wouldn't be able to reach the pedals, and partly because I wouldn't be seen dead driving an Austin Maxi - but because it's a hot summer's day and the car seats have warmed up to a temperature that would usually have NASA panicking about heat shields, my legs and back feel as though they've just been ironed. Although the car radio has VHF, we're listening to Radio 2 on Medium Wave, which means every time we go under a bridge the radio reception politely waits outside for us to rejoin it.

Music-wise, it's like being engulfed in a tidal wave of beige – every song is, or sounds, at least five years old and they're all sung by nice, safe people that the listeners could take home to meet their parents.

This is James Blunt's new single.

ELVIS AT THE OU

ELVIS NIGHT

Open University

Friday

THE King is back and he's 28 again!

Thirty years after his death, in common room and theatre bar, the spirit of Elvis Presley lives on in the form of Ben Portsmouth.

Ben and his band, Taking Care of Elvis, take you back to the early days of the king of rock and roll.

Awarded the title of Best Festival Elvis at last year's annual Porthcawl Elvis convention, Ben's custom made outfits span the black leathers of Presley's comeback in 1968 to the white jumpsuits of the later Las Vegas shows, and are all direct copies of the originals.

Douglas Smith, member of the Elvis Now fan club has organised the event along with the Open University.

"This month is the 30th anniversary of Elvis passing away and this is an opportunity to bring that to the fore," he said.

"I could listen to Elvis all day long because of the range and style of his songs and you know you are always going to get a good clean polished performance."

Douglas, from Bletchley. said Elvis has a solid fan base in the area: "There are more than 200 people in the Elvis Now fan club. People come from all over and we want to start a group in Milton Keynes."

The event will also feature DJ Bill Guntrip, who will be playing music from the 50s, 60s and 70s.

Tickets are £6 on 07814 597563. Doors 7pm.

RUNNING SCARED LIFE

The Pamplona festival in northern Spain is both famous and notorious. STEVE LOWE recently returned from a trip where he took in the sights and sounds of the Fiesta de St Fermin

IT is approaching eight in the morning. I have been up less than an hour but most people around me have not yet been to bed. The sky is clear, with the early morning sun turning it from grey to blue. Swallows dart and dive around the nearby church.

A brass band has been playing but has now gone quiet. I am standing behind a barricade with several hundred others, including my eldest step-son. Another couple of hundred are the other side of the barricade, in a narrow cobbled street.

They look a little nervous.

Some are carrying rolled-up newspapers. We are all in white t-shirts and have red bandanas round our necks. The police occasionally cross the barricade to pull someone onto our side: if they look too old, too scared, too drunk or are women.

At 8am a rocket explodes. Ten seconds later another goes off and then there is complete pandemonium. Those on the other side of the barricades start running for their lives. They are being outrun by ten 1,200 pound bulls hurtling up the street.

People desperately try and clamber over the barricades or avoid the bulls by clinging to the walls. Some are trampled, by bulls or other runners. Fortunately the bulls keep running. It is when they stop that they are at their most dangerous - being trampled is slightly less dangerous than being gored.

In moments the procession is past and in about three minutes the run or Encierro, is over.

A third rocket announces the bulls have made it into the bull ring.

Everyone, runners and watchers, unless they have been injured, return to the bars for a breakfast of bulls stew and lambs sweetbreads, washed down with a couple of glasses of Rose.

They then are off to bed for a few hours, before the partying starts all over again.

The Pamplona festival - Fiesta de St Fermin to give it its proper name - is a deliriously exciting week-long party. There are celebrations, parades, marches, people dressing up in 'big heads' and firework displays.

Everyone, locals, guests, visitors, runners and non-runners, children and dogs, wear the red bandana. Almost everyone drinks from around three in the afternoon, when they stir themselves, until eight the next morning. Yet there is a genuine friendly atmosphere, with no hint of bad behaviour or loutishness.

Of course, as those trying to ban it would point out, the bulls are run from their pens each morning to the bull ring, where they are killed in the evening by a matador.

This part of the fiesta is under threat and perhaps some way could be found of having the bull run in the morning without the killing in the evening.

I cannot see any logical objections to the run itself, as the only animals hurt are humans.

I am sure EU health and safety officers go into near hysteria whenever it is mentioned but if people want to take what can be an insanely dangerous risk, let them.

There was a health and safety message just before the first rocket went off, telling people to 'run safe and look safe'.

The run happens each morning of the week-long festival.

After the last Encierro on Saturday morning, everyone congregates in the town square, sing a song and remove their bandanas.

Except for a few die-hards who, with no bulls left to chase them, run in front of the morning buses.

As we dined on Thursday night on the sixth floor of our hotel, at about eleven pm the fireworks started and we had grandstand seats.

My four-year-old turned to me wide-eyed and said: "Dad, this is the best day – ever!"

TGI FRIDAY'S
Theatre District
Review by Alicia Babaee

TGI Friday's has been around so long it's become a bit of an institution.

A typical American diner chain, this one doesn't do quaint.

But it's certainly a fun night out.

It's loud and lairy atmosphere and exciting cocktail menu makes it the perfect venue for large groups such as birthday, stag or hen parties.

We went as a couple, but still appreciated the lively environment.

Recently refurbished, this Theatre District eatery also boasts a new east-meets-west menu to add a bit of spice to its classic burgers, ribs and steaks.

To start we chose the Times Square Big Share (£12.99) from the regular menu . Fantastic Jack Daniel's sweet 'n' smoky wings, cheese and bacon skins, mozarella dippers, celery sticks and dips combined to make the opening course a success.

We branched out for our mains, going for Eastern-inspired options. This menu is more limited but offers two courses for £10.99 until September 10.

I had Dragonfire Chicken which was a chargrilled breast topped with chilli sauce, mandarin oranges and pineapple pico de gallo. The chicken was a little dry, but the sauce was tasty.

My partner had the bacon 'n' cheeseburger which was served in a toasted bun with lettuce, tomato, dill pickle and red onion with Friday's fries. He really enjoyed it.

We ended our meal with a 'for sharing' dessert in the form of a popcorn brownie sundae (£5.99).

It was scrumptious and consisted of warm chocolate brownie chunks, hot fudge and caramel sauce, vanilla flavour ice cream and sticky toffee popcorn.

The staff were very friendly and upbeat and, if it's your birthday, they'll even sing to you.

Luckily, it wasn't either of ours.

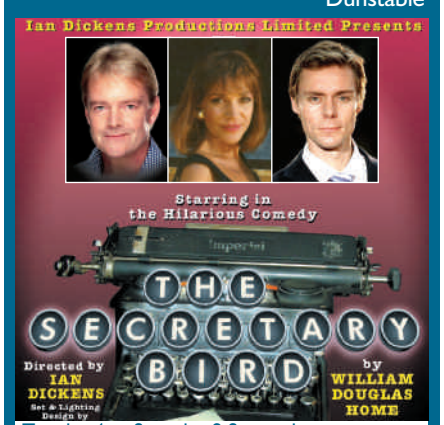
Ian Dickens Productions Limited Presents



Tuesday 4 to Saturday 8 September
The Secretary Bird
Starring Robert Duncan (Gus in Drop the Dead Donkey), Judy Buxton (Ruth in On The Up), Edward Baker-Duly (Joe Fisher in Emmerdale), Katy Evans (Joyce Briant in The Bill) and Zoe Springbett.
After twelve years of seemingly happy marriage to her somewhat older husband, Liz suddenly announces she has fallen for John and wants a divorce. Apparently acquiescing, Hugh says he will provide the grounds. Everything seems set for a calm passage until it turns out that the plan includes Hugh's pretty secretary as co-respondent and that the action is to take place in his own home.
This wonderful play has all the ingredients for side splitting humour and follows the recent success of Ian Dickens Productions including Run For Your Wife and Caught In The Net.

XSCAPE
MILTON KEYNES
On 1st and 2nd September, Xscape hosts a weekend of free community events, live on the front piazza. On Saturday 1st September, The Marshall MK Lions will once again be out in all their glory at Xscape Milton Keynes, bringing their annual 3 on 3 tournament to the front piazza, beneath the big screen! This is the third year that Vince Macaulay has bought his BBL League team to the venue and was keen to champion the event: "Our work in the parishes is really important to the team," says Vince "Both the team and the public that come and join in really enjoy the events, and the Xscape tournament is really the jewel in the crown!"

Between 11am and 5pm, you can come along and practice your lay ups and slam dunks, and join in the official 3 on 3 tournament. Registration begins at 10:45, so get there early to be in with your chance to shoot some hoops with some of the UK's best basketball talent! As well as that, there will be loads of giveaways and fun for all ages on the day.
On Sunday 2nd September, MKVibe will host a five-hour showcase of local entertainment outside Xscape starting at 11am. Featuring some of Milton Keynes' most talented and up-and-coming DJs, singers, dance groups and beatbox performers, this FREE exhibition is the chance for young musicians to show off their skills and passion to perform. Also, MKVibe is inviting any undiscovered bands or artistes to get in touch and they could be among the huge line up on the day and possibly become a regular at the MKVibe under 18s nights.
Confirmed to perform on the 2nd so far is: Nemisis; B-Kay & Kazz; Deanio; Bullit Kid; Eammon; Alexandra; Mixed Origin; Rezon & Paranoia; Klassix; DJ Slaxx; DJ Tonic; Lady 1E; DJ Rayzie; Rocky and special guests: D-Fam; F-Tizzle; DJ Ironik and NDubs.
Recruitment Open Day
Saturday 1st September 2007 11am – 2pm
At SNO!zone, Xscape Milton Keynes
SNO! UK's PREMIER
SNO!zone are now recruiting for our busy winter season and are looking for staff to assist in a variety of positions, both full time (40 hours) and part time over varying shift patterns.
Are you friendly, outgoing, personable and able to deal confidently with all types of people? Able to give exceptional customer service at all times – even under pressure? You should be flexible, willing to learn new tasks and able to help wherever needed. For certain positions a basic level of fitness is necessary as there is an element of lifting required, as well as spending time on the real snow slopes.
Benefits include 20 days holiday per annum (pro-rata for part-time positions); stakeholder pension scheme; discounts around the Xscape complex (after qualifying period) and free use of the slopes at certain periods.
Not quite 16? We are also looking for hardworking people aged 13-16 to work on a voluntary basis at weekends and during the school holidays. You will gain valuable "hands on" work experience as well as earning time on the slope.
Sound interesting? Visit our Open Day on 1st September in the SNO!bar to find out more information and to apply. Members from each department will be here to give you an insight into working for SNO!zone and answer any questions you may have. Refreshments will also be provided.

Try something special

THE Special Constabulary in Milton Keynes is launching a five-week recruitment drive this September.

Special Constables from the area will be available to chat to people interested in joining at a recruitment stall in Midsummer Place Shopping Centre every Saturday from September 1 to 22 September.

An open evening will take place Tuesday 25 September at Milton Keynes Police Station, Witan Gate, from 7.30pm. It will feature a presentation on the Special Constabulary, a tour of the station and a question and answer session.

BCU Commander for Milton Keynes, Chief Supt John Liversidge, said: "We have over 30 Special Constables in the new city. They play a significant role in the policing of the area, integrating into the local team and carrying out work such as patrols, speed enforcement, execution of warrants, house searches, arrests and interviews of suspects.

"Milton Keynes is the only area in Thames Valley which has a Specials pro-active team. Some of the team's members are now trained CCTV operators."

Special Constables are volunteer police officers who give up their own time to help support the work of their local police force.

In Thames Valley there are currently around 325 Special Constables, who as well as providing valuable support to their regular colleagues, also form a vital link between the police and local communities.

Special Constables have the same powers as regular officers and perform a range of policing duties under the supervision of, and supported by, regular officers.

Alistair Borland, the Special Chief Insp for Milton Keynes, said: "We have a really dedicated group of Special Constables in Milton Keynes. I would urge anyone who has a few spare hours each month, and wants to make a real difference to their community, to pop along to the events."

For those who cannot make it to any of the recruitment events more details and information on the Constabulary can be found on the Thames Valley Police website. Log on to www.thamesvalley.police.uk/recruiting/specials/index.htm. More details about the open evening will appear on the same website when they become available.

Alternatively, if you are interested in joining the local team and putting something back into your community call 01865 846612 or e-mail specialsrecuitment@thamesvalley.pnn.police.uk or write to Thames Valley Police Recruitment at Thames Valley Police Headquarters, Oxford Road, Kidlington, Oxfordshire OX5 2NX, for an application pack.

Beat that: Special Constables play a significant role in the policing of MK including patrolling, speed enforcement, execution of warrants, house searches, arrests and interviews of suspects

Audi Service Advisor

Bedford Audi

In every sense, Audi is a brand that radiates success and confidence. In 2006, we achieved 86,000 sales, unveiled 9 new Audi models and won Autocar's 'Car Company of the Year 2006' Award. In the coming years, we plan to build on these achievements to ensure that Audi remains ahead of the competition and is known for delivering customer service excellence.

Join us as an Audi Service Advisor and you'll play an instrumental part in achieving this goal. Friendly and professional, you will be the first point of contact for customers visiting the Centre, and as such you'll be an important ambassador for the Audi brand.

Your duties will include:

- Dealing with all service enquiries by telephone, email and face-to-face
- Managing the allocation and handover of customer service vehicles
- Liaising with workshop teams to ensure timely completion of customer vehicles
- Agreeing work to be carried out with customers, while maintaining knowledge of the necessary technical features and benefits
- Qualify customer concerns regarding vehicle running problems where appropriate
- Adhering to the Audi Service Promises and delivering a first-class customer service experience

If you are able to attend an Assessment Centre at The Saints Rugby Ground, Weedon Road, Northampton on 29th August at 10:30, please email your full CV quoting reference No AUDIB32 to: recruitment@vindisgroup.com

Please contact Sonia Paul 01604 683557 to ensure your CV has been received

Alternatively apply online at: www.audi.co.uk/centres

Detention Custody Officers

£17,712 for a 42 hour week • Yarl's Wood IRC, Bedford
Part time positions also available.

Yarl's Wood Immigration Removal Centre near Bedford, part of Serco Civil Government, cares for an ever changing population of up to 405 detainees made up of single females and families on behalf of the UK Border & Immigration Agency. Some spend a few days with us, some many months but they all help make working for us a unique and rewarding experience.

We provide secure accommodation for a diverse population who have been detained by the Immigration Service, many of whom are scared, isolated and thousand of miles away from home. Alongside maintaining general security, you'll work with individuals from a broad range of nationalities who may never have been in held in a specialist centre before, taking responsibility for their safety and security onsite and whilst escorting them to other locations, such as courts or hospitals.

Your common sense, pride in your work and responsible attitude will enable you to deal professionally at all times with our residents, other members of staff and the management team. Excellent communications skills are vital in this role, working in a challenging environment that offers all the career prospects you can handle.

As well as competitive salaries you'll receive benefits including pension & life assurance schemes, comprehensive training, ongoing development opportunities, employee assistance programme and more.

If you feel you have experience and skills which could be transferred to this unique environment and would like to apply please contact the Human Resources Department for an application pack by calling 01234 821168. Email: angela.gerrard@serco.com

Due to the sensitive nature of our work all staff must have the right to live and work in the UK, five years' checkable address history and UK residency for at least three years. You will also have to pass Criminal Record and Counter Terrorist Checks.

Make an impression!

Yarl's Wood IRC, Bedford

Yarl's Wood Immigration Removal Centre, part of Serco Civil Government, provides a safe and secure environment to an ever changing population of up to 405 detainees made up of single females and families on behalf of the UK Border & Immigration Agency. We aim to deliver a highly professional service and you can be part of the team that makes that happen.

Receptionist/Switchboard Operator • £14,420pa

A key member of the team, you'll use your excellent communication skills and organised approach to provide a first-class reception and admin support service. It's a wide ranging role involving everything from telephone answering and keyboard skills to the management of the detainees' mail system – so there is plenty to keep you busy, if you've an excellent telephone manner and strong admin skills.

Nursery Nurse • Up to £14,000pa

You'll be part of a team working flexibly to provide a caring and positive environment to the children housed within this busy Detention Centre. You'll ideally have a NVQ Level 3 in Child Care & Education or Level 2 and be willing to work towards Level 3, along with day-to-day care experience. It is essential that you can demonstrate high levels of interpersonal and organisational skills. You'll work a shift system from 9am to 6pm on a rolling rota covering 5 days out of 7 including some weekends.

In return, alongside the real challenges of these roles we can offer excellent conditions of employment, comprehensive training, employee assistance programme, stakeholder pension scheme, health plan, childcare vouchers and more!

If you feel you have experience and skills which could be transferred to this unique environment and would like to apply please contact the Human Resources Department for an application pack by calling 01234 821168. Email: angela.gerrard@serco.com

Due to the sensitive nature of our work all staff must have the right to live and work in the UK, five years' checkable address history and UK residency for at least three years. You will also have to pass Criminal Record and Counter Terrorist Checks.

Image conscious?

Quality Support Controller - Photo Processing Labs
Bedford • £competitive + good benefits

FUJIFILM's photo processing labs are compact and fully self-contained facilities for processing colour prints, offering advanced technology, speed and superb image quality.

Demand for systems is increasing and as a result we need a confident, customer-focused person to join the helpdesk team responsible for monitoring the process quality of our Minilabs to support the production of exceptional images.

Using our remote monitoring systems and telephone support, this is the perfect career move if you have a flair for working with technical products and the confidence to reassure customers while solving their problems.

Additionally, there may be the opportunity to get involved in product testing and project work and you will also contribute to our support website and provide valuable product feedback.

A proven customer service background is essential and, ideally, you will have some previous photo processing experience, although the ability and enthusiasm to learn the necessary technical skills is more important. You will also need a good standard of general education, together with keyboard/PC skills, a sound approach to problem solving and the ability to quickly build a professional rapport with your customers.

FUJIFILM offers full product training, comfortable, friendly surroundings and the kind of remuneration package you would expect from a world-class organisation.

Apply now by emailing your CV, including salary details, to careers@fuji.co.uk or send them to:

BEST CAR DEALS

SEPTEMBER 2007

New registrations will be arriving in car showrooms within the next week

If you're thinking of updating your vehicle it's time to do your homework on what's available.

With a huge range of styles and specifications growing ever larger, making your choice can be truly bewildering process. Without a doubt there's at least one perfect vehicle for everyone so getting the right car requires a little self assessment. For example, why splash out on a gas guzzling Chelsea tractor if you only need it to take the two of you to the shops or for the occasional family visit. Likewise a nippy, little two seater, soft top sports car might look like fun but it won't be much use on the school run or when you're ferrying round half a rugby team.

Buying cars is very much a matter of horses for courses. Starting at the smaller end of the market there are tiny vehicles designed to carry two to four people. Many offer surprising comfort and are designed with busy town and city use in mind. They take up little space, are easy to park, consume tiny amounts of fuel and, with judicious use of their adaptable seating and hatchback facilities, can accommodate a surprising amount of baggage, shopping or golf paraphernalia.

And with green credentials in mind, they are cheap to run, environmentally more friendly than their larger counterparts and also cost less to tax and insure.

Next up come the standard saloons and estate bodies. As well as being effective, all round workhouses, today's saloons and estates offer that important bit extra. Many have rear seats which fold down to accommodate extra long loads and cavernous boots which are ideal for families large and small.

And both saloons and estates now offer the kind of luxury with added extras that you would find in a, traditionally, much more luxurious motor.

Sporty, fun-loving types can take advantage of coupés, sports cars and convertibles galore.

But if sporty's not for you, or just doesn't fit your lifestyle, you may be looking for something a bit more practical. And if it's practical you want you would go a long way to beat the good old MPV.

From ferrying the aforementioned rugby team to carting both the guys and the golf clubs, these vehicles offer great use of space plus all round vision and a superb level of comfort and prestige.

And don't forget the off-roaders, which mostly do exactly what it says on the tin. They can be just the job for farmers, foresters, engineers or explorers and are also much beloved of bankers, lawyers and even estate agents who like to drive for fun and adventure.

Should a passenger vehicle not be your priority there are also a wide range of commercial vehicles out there which need an equal amount of thought. Whether a small van, pick-up truck or panel van, if you've got lots to ferry about one of these could be for you.

And, since vans these days are often as comfortable and well appointed as cars and most will carry three people, you may want to choose one of these as a family vehicle suitable for both work and home. Best of all is that many of these styles have been mixed and matched and it's just a matter of knowing what you want and taking the time to find it.

Once you've decided on a style there are other considerations to take into account such as engine size, gear box type whether manual or automatic, do you want four wheel drive and what sort of fuel do you prefer. Many models come in both diesel and petrol options and manufacturers are also now coming up with plenty of dual fuel models which allow drivers to be more environmentally friendly.

It all depends on the use you want to make of your new vehicle. Your lifestyle and inclination will give you a good steer as to which to choose. And thinking before you buy is essential as mistakes can not only be a nuisance but also expensive.

Evans Halshaw presents the 2007

4 DAY SAVE

Thursday 6th to Sunday 9th of September

For strictly 4 days only you can buy one of 235 new cars for the same price we do. This means exactly what it says. "You pay what we did"… and we'll prove it to you - but hurry 'Strictly 4 days' means Thursday 8.00 am to Sunday 5.00 pm and WILL NOT be extended.

Dear Customer

Evans Halshaw are part of the Pendragon group, the largest car retailer in Europe. We have the power to deliver choice, quality and because of our buying power, outstanding value for money.

Customer Notice

Because of the expected demand, we have drafted extra team members into the dealership for the weekend. With this in mind, we would like to apologise in advance for perhaps not being able to answer the phone, due to showroom activity and appointments that will have been made. ABILITY REFINED

If you want genuine all-weather ability from the definitive estate car, the XC70 answers the call.

Volvo is once again back tilting at what has come to be called the crossover market with its latest XC70, a model that fuses estate car practicality with a modicum of SUV 'go-anywhere' lifestyle desirability. It's a car that plays to a small but cash-rich audience.

The latest XC70, priced from £31,035, isn't just a facelifted version of the old car. The chassis has been comprehensively redesigned, ironing out the old car's vagueness and introducing an element of fun to proceedings. That said, the XC70 is never going to be a poster child of the evo generation, instead campaigning on the basis of all-weather ability and unimpeachable safety. There are two engines offered to UK customers. Petrol buyers get a Welsh-built 3.2-litre straight-six that punches a healthy 235bhp with a maximum torque of 320Nm. Diesel customers get a 183bhp 2.4-litre D5 turbo diesel with 400Nm of torque. The D5 drives through either a six-speed manual gearbox or a six-speed Geartronic auto with a sequential 'manual' mode, while the 3.2-litre car is offered solely with Geartronic.

Extensive use of high tensile steels has improved chassis rigidity by 15 per cent, allowing the suspension to do its job better. Volvo's DSTC stability and traction control system is fitted as standard as are the Four-C electronically-controlled dampers. Hill Descent Control and an electronically-controlled hydraulic clutch, which distributes drive to whichever wheels can best handle it, will help you out of a tight spot. Ground clearance, approach, departure and breakover angles have all been improved and the wading depth of 300mm should see you through the worst of the winter's storms. There's even an intelligent power parking brake that automatically disengages when the accelerator is pressed.

The styling is probably the ace in the XC70's hole. Where the Audi has become more restrained, the XC70 opts for a beefier, more macho look and it suits it very well. As well as the scratchproof protective cladding along the car's flanks and arches, there are chunkier front bumpers, blacked out side pillars and C30-inspired tail lights.

The windscreen and tailgate are raked a little more than before but the emphasis remains on serious carrying capacity. It's still extremely space-efficient with a class-competitive 485-litres of fresh air back there and a massive 1,641-litres can be liberated if you fold the rear seats down and stack your cargo to the roofline. You'll also find luggage nets and hooks to help secure any items with wayward tendencies.

The Volvo XC70 is a car whose time has come. Rather than parade around in an SUV that draws all the wrong sort of attention, the XC70 is at the same time lower profile but harder hitting than its rather meek predecessor. In other words, it strikes a decent balance. Both engines are strong powerplants that complement the driveline well without overpowering it for the sake of headline stats. Of the two, the diesel will rack up bigger sales and is marginally the preferable unit.

The interior has been given the once over too, with most of the clunkier design themes replaced by a slicker look and feel. Otherwise there are enduring Volvo qualities such as supreme practicality and a whole slew of safety features. This model at last proves that a sensible choice can have a big element of desirability fitted as standard.

PREVIEWS

ROCHDALE
League Two
Saturday, September 1. KO 3pm
Spotland Stadium

HAVING claimed their first win of the season, in convincing style, confidence will be high in the MK Dons' camp ahead of their long journey to Rochdale this weekend.

In comparison Rochdale are still searching for their own three pointer of the new campaign, they have had a tough start claiming only one point in their three games so far.

But fans will not need reminding of the horror trip there last year, when they witnessed their side suffer a 5-0 drubbing.

The Dons have been scoring for fun of late, having netted eight goals in three games, Keith Andrews and Leon Knight will no doubt be favourites to get their names on the score sheet.

With both sides having played in the Carling Cup Round Two, it could be a case of whose legs last longest on the day.

Rochdale will be without midfielder David Perkins, who was sent off against Hereford on Saturday.

Lee Crooks is expected to replace him in central midfield, but defender Nathan D'Laryea is a doubt for the clash.

With Drissa Diallo back from his suspension, Paul Ince faces the tough decision of whether or not to split up the defensive partnership of Danny Swailes, above, and Sean O'Hanlon, who both impressed in the Dons' win against Shrewsbury.

WITH the transfer deadline looming this Friday, Paul Ince is still keeping an eye on potential last-minute bargains.

One player Ince could snap up in a late deal is former Sheffield Wednesday striker Mikel Antoine Courier. The 24-year-old is currently on trial with the Dons.

MK Dons under-18's slipped to their second successive defeat at the hands of Sheffield United.

Adam Chapman's first-half free-kick was enough to seal the victory for the Blades, despite the Dons dominating the game.

THREE Dons players have been named in the League Two team of the week.

Goalscorers Keith Andrews and Leon Knight have claimed a spot, while Willy Gueret is the keeper of the week after keeping the Dons' first clean sheet of the season.

League Two Team of the Week: Willy Gueret (MK Dons), Adam Yates (Morecambe), Paul Butler (Chester), Nick Fenton (Grimsby), Gregor Robertson (Chesterfield), Garry Thompson (Morecambe), Keith Andrews (MK Dons), Eddie Johnson (Bradford), Danny N'Guessan (Lincoln), John Murphy (Chester), Leon Knight (MK DONS).

MK Dons have the second highest crowds in League Two, with an average of 7,560 fans turning up to cheer on Paul Ince's men.

Their highest attendance came on the opening day against Bury, with 7,740 while the lowest was 7,380 at the weekend's win against Shrewsbury.

Bradford City average 13,945.

KEITH Andrews is the top Dons player for shots so far, he has had five on target and seven off.

CARLING CUP ACTION

Nathan Abbey at full stretch fails to push out Sheffield Utd's first half equaliser by Chris Lucketti (No 22)

From back page

The strikers close range shot was kept out by Abbey, but it was Law's follow-up that the Dons 'keeper could do nothing about as the visitors took the lead for the first time in the game.

Just as Broughton was dusting himself down after appealing for a penalty, the visitors burst on a break and David Carney's cross provided the perfect ball for Stead.

But Abbey pulled off a stunning save as he tipped the ball over the bar.

And minutes later McGovern's free-kick provided the Dons with a route back into the game when his rocket of a shot picked up a deflection from the wall and left Paddy Kenny stumped in goal.

In extra time Dyer's strike, after a pulsating break, tested Kenny, while Aaron Wilbraham sent a chance over the bar.

But Horsefield beat a recovering Dons defence to put an end to the Dons Carling Cup campaign.

MK DONS: Abbey, Stirling, Diallo, McGovern, Gallen (c)(Wright 68), Edds (Wilbraham 78), Broughton, Murphy, Navarro, Swailes, Carayol (Dyer 62).

Revenge is sweet

Fans-tastic: Leon Knight celebrates his goal with the Cowshed

THERE is nothing like a bit of sweet revenge to get the season rolling and that is exactly what MK Dons got when they emphatically beat Shrewsbury 3-0.

The Dons management team had played down the fixture, insisting it was just another League Two game.

But judging by the way Keith Andrews celebrated the third and final goal of the afternoon, there was certainly a lot of fire in his belly, and the result may have given the players, and the fans, some closure following their play-off defeat at the hands of the Shrews last season.

The Dons finally put on the show that fans had become accustom to in pre-season, and played some spellbinding football during the ninety minutes.

By no means was their performance flawless, in fact they could have enforced a cricket score on the visitors, all the hard work was there from the offset, but it was the final touch that eluded the Dons strike force that sent them in at half time with no advantage.

One football cliche fans will know is the old favourite 'next time we have a chance we'll bury it' and that is indeed what the Dons did at the re-start.

It took just ninety seconds for the next attack on goal to come, and the chance fell at the feet of Leon Knight, who struck his effort from the right of the box straight into the roof of the net to give his side the lead.

The momentum was clearly with the Dons as Lloyd Dyer doubled the lead when he chipped 'keeper Glyn Garner and Andrews rounded off the scoring with another thunderous strike, his third in three games.

The Dons had ample possession and when the Shrews did advance forward it was often through counter attack, but with new boy Danny Swailes standing firm in defence, Gary Peter's side found there was no route through.

Swailes bossed the Dons box with extreme confidence and capped off a terrific display by claiming the man of the match accolade.

Dons number two Ray Mathias is not keen on singling out individual players in games, but the defensive pairing of Swailes and Sean O'Hanlon clearly impressed.

He said: "You look at Swailes and O'Hanlon's performances, no matter what division you're playing in it would have been hard for strikers to cope with them.

"The performance throughout was absolutely superb, I think on the day it could have been a hammering really from the chances we created.

"You look at the chances in the first half and we went in at 0-0, I couldn't believe it.

"I think the most important thing was the clean sheet, we've not kept clean sheets in our previous games and we worked this week on that.

"We've got quality players here and today the quality of the goals was superb."

> We've got quality players here and today the quality of the goals was superb

FANS' FAVOURITE WRITES FOR YOU

PAUL MITCHELL

I THINK the result on Saturday was a combination of the Bury and the Macclesfield games.

We've been playing well in patches, but on Saturday we seemed to click and it was a great performance by all.

What's nice to see so far this season has been the variety of different goal scorers. Having lost two of the best strikers in the league last year, it's great to see us getting goals from all over the pitch.

I think that might have something to do with the way we are playing now, it allows more people to get into the box and support the forwards. Long may that continue as it eases the pressure on the strike force and seems to be bringing the best out of Knighty, who has three goals already.

As everyone knows by now, I write the column a couple of days in advance so we will have played Sheffield United by the time you read this, who many regard as one of the best if not the best team in the Championship. The Tevez affair has been well documented and I'm sure the Blades feel hard done by that they are not a Premiership team.

But if we applied ourselves in the same way as we did in the last round I'm sure you'll all be eating your cornflakes this morning happy with the result.

Promotion is definitely the priority this season so these cup games are also a good way for squad members to really stake a claim for a starting berth in the league. When the squad is strong and everyone gets the chance to do well it can give the manager a headache like it did in the last round.

But those sort of headaches are the ones managers would rather have than not.

Looking ahead to Saturday, even though Rochdale haven't started the best, they are still a very strong outfit and know what it takes to perform at this level week in week out.

We are going to have to be at our best on Saturday to get any sort of result, you only have to look to the game there last season to see how hard it is going to be. But I'm sure the northern weather will be good to us and we can get a first away victory of the season.

CRICKET

Brickhill 20 points clear

MORRANTS FOUR COUNTIES LEAGUE

DIVISION ONE

MILTON Keynes and Mentmore have been relegated.

MK dismissed top side Great Brickhill for just 122 runs, but they fell 20 runs short in their reply.

Brickhill are now 20 points clear at the top ahead of Eaton Bray, who lost by four wickets to Winslow Town.

AKI Hussian hit an unbeaten 110 to help New Bradwell beat Mentmore by 196 runs and confirm their relegation.

MK CITY beat North Crawley by four wickets, while Newport Pagnell secured their safety with a win against Cubbington.

DIVISION TWO

TRING Park and Aspley Guise clinched promotion to league one, Tring beat Studham by seven wickets, while Aspley Guise claimed the points they needed by drawing with Turvey.

SOULBURY enhanced their chances of staying in the league with a four wicket win over Olney Town.

OLD Bradwell lost to Stewkley by four wickets, while Aston Clinton drew with Eddlesborough.

DIVISION THREE

THE two sides to be promoted are yet to be decided, but Eggington and Steeple Claydon were confirmed as the sides going down a division.

EGGINGTON lost to New Bradwell, while the Milton Bryan beat Steeple Claydon to seal their fate.

DESPITE losing to Caddington, Shenley Church End remain at the top with the OU close behind and Biddenham beat third from bottom Eaton Bray.

DIVISION FOUR

NORTH Crawley secured promotion with a win against Totternhoe, meanwhile at the other end Old Bradwell were relegated despite beating Willen.

MK secured safety with a draw against Great Brickhill and Cranfield University lost to Whitchurch.

DIVISION FIVE

DIVISION five is all but wrapped up with MK City and Printers clinching promotion, while Winslow Town and Stewkley were relegated.

THE remaining six teams will battle it out for the remaining spots in next weeks final games.

DIVISION SIX

IT is all to play for in the bottom division with only 25 points separating the top three.

IVINGHOE and Pitstone, Turvey and Newport Pagnell will all battle it out in the final week for the top two places.

CHERWELL LEAGUE

TIME is running out for MK Park as they battle against relegation.

Park lost to Shipton by eight wickets and are now 50 points behind third from bottom Great Tew, with just two games remaining to secure their safety.

NORTHANTS LEAGUE

STONY Stratford were the unfortunate side to see Finedon Dolben retain their champions title.

A four wicket defeat means Stony are now in eighth place and have just three games left to their season.

ATHLETICS

World's best too good for Pickering

CRAIG Pickering matched his ambition in the World Athletics Championships in Japan by reaching the semi-finals of the 100 metres, but could not break into the final.

The MK sprinter, competing in his first major championships, had an impressive start in the event winning his quarter-final ahead of Marc Burns and Brendan Christian.

But it was the semi-final that proved a race too many with the likes of Derrick Atkins, Asafa Powell and Kim Collins lining up against him.

It was by far the biggest race of his career and Pickering could be forgiven for being a little nervous and false starting, it clearly unsettled the 20-year-old and he could only manage a fifth place, running 10.29 secs, with Atkins claiming first in 10.04 secs.

Close call: Pickering's false start unsettled the MK athlete, left, as Derrick Atkins of the Bahamas, in blue, powered to a convincing win in the World Athletics Championships 100 metres semi-final Pickering is expected to be back in action this Friday, as Great Britain compete in the 4x100m.

Today Greg Rutherford will embark on his quest for the long jump title. The final is tomorrow.

MOTOR RACING

A case of same old, same old for Red Bull

Fight for a finish: David Coulthard heads team mate Mark Webber in the Turkish GP

IT was the same old problems for Red Bull at the Turkish Grand Prix, with only one driver finishing the race and no points added to the board.

Hydraulic problems ended Webber's race nine laps in.

It was a tough weekend all round for the Milton Keynes outfit with both drivers failing to break into the top ten following a difficult qualifying session.

With Webber's early retirement it was left to Coulthard to try and claim some points.

The Scotsman, who started in 13th, managed to make up three positions but, with a competitive pack in front of him, had to settle for tenth .

Coulthard said: "I made a good start and made up a few places, and thereafter I found the car to be a bit inconsistent which did not help me maintain a good pace throughout the race, especially when I had a bit of fuel on board."

Webber, on his fifth retirement, said: "It's a shame because I was fuelled to go for a long stint, longer than those directly ahead of us and I was just sitting in there, ready to go for it for the rest of the race.

"On the lap before I stopped I started to have problems with down shifting and then the team called me in to retire."

MKSPORTSSHORTS

LOCAL FOOTBALL

IN the South Midlands League One, STONY STRATFORD TOWN beat Bedford 1-0, NEW BRADWELL ST PETER lost 3-0 to Haringey Borough and WINSLOW UNITED beat Harpenden Town 3-2.

IN division two MURSLEY UNITED drew 1-1 with AFC Dunstable in their midweek game, and they beat Aston Clinton 4-3.

OLD BRADWELL suffered a 4-1 defeat at the hands of Totterhoe.

Shoot hoops with the Lions

THE MK Lions will have their annual three-on-three tournament outside the Xscape on Saturday. It will be the third year that the basketball team have brought their BBL League team to the front piazza underneath the big screen.

Owner and coach Vince Macaulay said: "Our work in the parishes is really important to the team. Both the team and the public that come and join in really enjoy the events, and the Xscape tournament is really the jewel in the crown."

Between 11am and 5pm, you can practise your lay ups and slam dunks, and join in the tournament. Registration begins at 10.45am so get there early to be in with your chance to shoot some hoops with some of the UK's best basketball talent.

There will be loads of give-aways and fun for all ages on the day.

New role for Skinnari

MIKKO Skinnari has signed up for his sixth season with MK Lightning.

The Finn is the fourth and final import to be announced for the upcoming season, and he will be taking on a new defensive role.

After extra time

SUBSTITUTE Geoff Horsman's extra-time winner knocked MK Dons out of the Carling Cup, as they lost 3-2 to Bryan Robson's Sheffield United.

Despite taking the lead in the first half, the Dons found themselves 2-1 down, but Jon-Paul McGovern's deflected free-kick 12 minutes from time ensured the game went into extra time.

It was a brave performance from Paul Ince's side as they continued with their attack right to the final whistle. With both sides winning for the first time in their respective league campaigns at the weekend, it was difficult to separate the sides throughout the game.

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

Blades striker Jon Stead had the first real attempt on goal when he out jumped everyone to connect with Derek Geary's cross from the right, but his header was pushed out by 'keeper Nathan Abbey.

The Blades were left to rue the missed chance as just seconds later at the other end, the Dons broke the deadlock.

Jude Stirling, who had been pushed right to the by-line, provided the vital ball into the box and Drewe Broughton was there to smash the ball over the line.

But the Blades battled back and were behind for just eight minutes as Chris Lucketti lost his markers to head home Nick Law's corner.

It proved to be a physical battle as the game developed, with all-or-nothing tackles flying in.

Alan Navarro went agonisingly close to doubling the Dons lead on the half-hour-mark when his curling strike from the right of the box skimmed narrowly past the left corner.

With the scores level at half-time the Blades piled forward on their return to the field, Alan Quinn squeezed through the midfield and found room to play a great ball into the path of Stead.

Appliance a science for university

APPLYING to university can be a daunting experience. A university's first impression of you will be based on what's written in your application. So it's important that you get it right. The first thing to do is to make sure you pick the right course, and this can be a challenge in itself.

UCAS - the central organisation that processes applications for undergraduate courses in the UK- advises that when looking at courses, you should do as much research as you can. Visit universities, talk to students who are already there, look at prospectuses, read the course programmes, and look at how your work will be assessed.

You need to choose whether you want to live at home or whether you're prepared to move away. If you are, how far? There's a university as close as Buckingham. It's also crucial that if you have a career in mind, you take a course that won't prevent you from pursuing your chosen path. If you want to be a scientist, don't opt for a degree in media studies.

Plenty of data and evidence is available about teaching and research at individual universities, through the UCAS website and the Quality Assurance Agency (QAA) for higher education website (www.qaa.ac.uk).

Some universities use grades for their entry requirements, and others supplement this with interviews, a test, or a request to see some of your work. Many are now using the new UCAS tariff system that recognises a wider range of academic achievements and extra-curricular ones such as music grades. You also need to decide what sort of qualification you're after. There's a lot of information about different types of degrees online. If you're having trouble choosing a course, try prioritising the things that are most important to you.

One of the most important parts of your application form is the personal statement, which you should discuss with your teachers. All applications are now done online. A lively and relevant statement conveying your enthusiasm, showing why you want to do the course, what you can offer, and what you want to do with your degree, will help.

Information about how your academic studies and personal experiences could help you on the course should also be mentioned. To apply to go to university in September 2008, you must download your application form from UCAS and send the completed form to them between September 2007 and January 15 2008. Visit the UCAS website at www.ucas.com

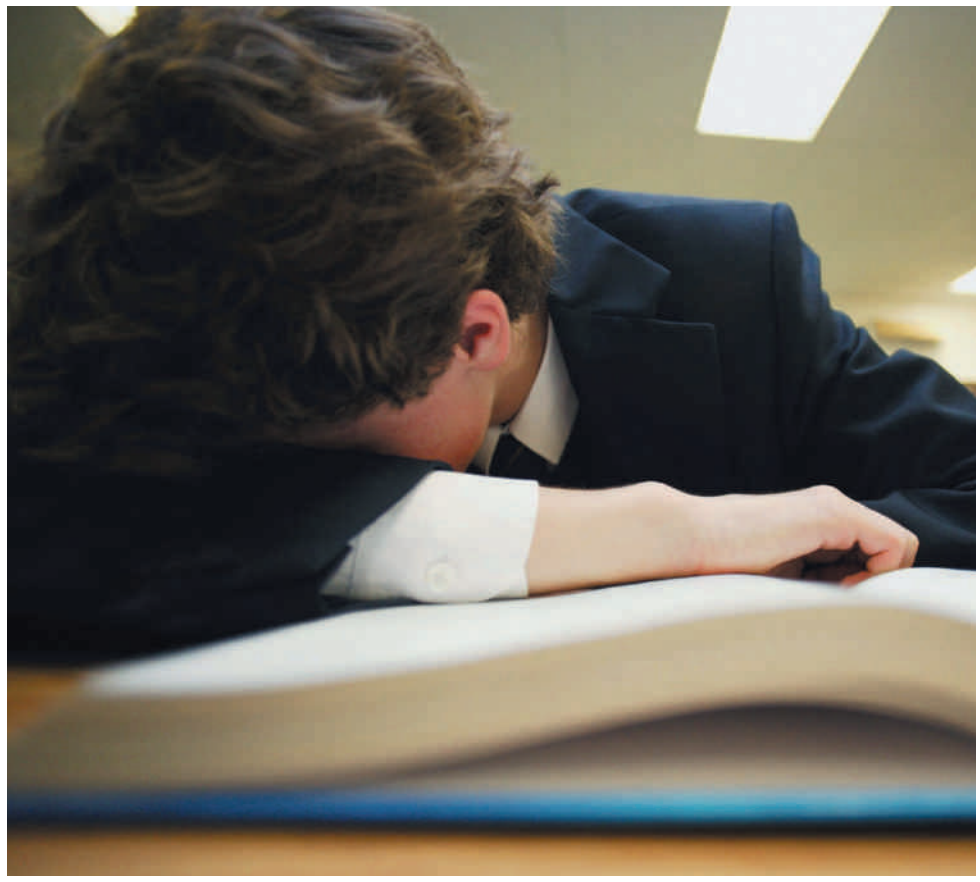
Not got the results you'd hoped for?



YOUR hands are shaking, your brow is sweaty, and the envelope suddenly feels like enemy number one. We all remember what results day is like. Your future rests inside that little brown package, typed out neatly on the ominous piece of white A4 paper. Failing your A-levels can seem like the end of the world at the time. But it's important to remember that that's not the case. If you don't get the results you had hoped for, it's important to remember that you do have other options. With all the hype that surrounds the 'big day' and the constant badgering from friends, teachers, cousins and great uncles you didn't even know you had, it's no surprise that A-level students feel so much pressure to do well. Even the neighbours stick their oar in, asking, "So, how do you think you've done?" But in fact only 45 per cent of predicted grades are accurate. Students have the option of resitting their exams in January, or the summer afterwards. Luckily, statistics show that people often do much better the second time around. The best thing to do is to discuss this option with your teachers and see whether they think it would be worth you resitting. You may be worried about not going to university this year when all your friends are going, but with so many people opting to take a gap year these days, you won't end up behind.

Retaking might not even be necessary. The clearing process allows students who haven't met their requirements for a conditional offer to find a place at another university or on a different course. It allows applicants without a place on a course to fill available university spaces. You could even end up going to a better university than you had hoped. Getting a degree is only one qualification option. With lower grades there are other possibilities. BTECs and OCR Nationals are work-related qualifications that offer students a mix of theory and practice in lots of fields of employment.

And you could end up better equipped to get a job, and after completing some you can even get into university. Then there's the option of going straight into the workplace. Your results might not get you the job you want immediately, but find out if there's a chance you could work your way up. A positive outlook will impress prospective employers and they might offer you training.

Don't be led down the wrong educational path

EVER felt you've been led down the wrong educational path? Then you are far from alone. Educational experts, Edge, recently released a survey saying one in every five young people think they have taken the wrong route. And almost half of those feel they have been misdirected by their own parents.

Edge is currently running a major TV and press advertising campaign aimed at tackling academic snobbery, and asking parents to consider all educational and work routes for their children.

Edge's chairman Garry Hawkes believes many parents are influenced by ingrained prejudices against vocational qualifications and don't fully understand the wide range of learning opportunities available to young people through further education, apprenticeships and vocational degrees.

The foundation has set up a Parents Panel, allowing more than 5,000 parents with children aged 11 to 16 to unravel some of the common myths surrounding learning.

Edge's campaign is urging parents to gain a greater understanding of the benefits of practical and vocational learning so that they can advise their children on the options that are best for them and that best suit their interests and talents.

Mr Hawkes said: "We've been concerned for some time at how academic snobbery is influencing the lives of young people and our research shows the unfortunate truth that it has resulted in thousands of young people being directed down the wrong route every year and therefore being turned off learning.

"Parents naturally want to do what's best for their child, but by their own admission they aren't armed with all the facts about the learning options available. And this is costing some young people dearly.

"At Edge, we're challenging all parents to stop thinking of academic qualifications as the only route to success. Parents must reassess their own views about their children's education, listen to what their children really want from work and life and discuss all their education and career options."

Donna Dawson, a psychologist who has been working with Edge on the campaign, commented: "Parents naturally want the best for their children, but with so many learning options available it can be difficult for parents to work out the best choice.

"Parents need to let their children know that they have their best interests at heart, and they should be prepared to have some open, honest, two-sided conversations with them about their future.

"This means taking the time to do this in a relaxed and thoughtful way, asking questions, and really listening to what their children are saying to them. "Alongside access to the appropriate information and advice, parents will then be able to guide their children down the right educational path, without too much emotional upset along the way."

Walton High

leading lifelong learning

The Walton Partnership of Schools - an enterprising approach to learning

As a leading Business and Enterprise specialist school, Walton High provides students with many opportunities to develop the skills needed to succeed in a rapidly changing world. Students graduating from Walton High do not only leave with good qualifications, but also with the "soft" skills so highly prized by employers such as the ability to communicate effectively, solve problems, be creative, work as part of a team, and take risks. Our high quality work in this field has been recognised by the government through its designation of Walton High as the Enterprise Education Hub School for the Milton Keynes, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire region. In this role staff at Walton High support other schools in developing enterprise learning.

Our work has also received local recognition. For the second year running, Walton High has won the Enterprising School of the Year Award. Individual awards were also received by Gena Habimana for his highly successful work experience placement with Xavier Evans being highly commended. Noel Evans won the award for Entrepreneurial Spirit as a result of his work in running extra-curricular sports clubs at Walton High's partner primary schools.

Walton High students return to their primary schools to take part in MK Reads

The Walton Partnership of schools share a common ethos of providing high quality education that values both the fun and fundamentals of learning. The close links between partner schools and Walton High mean that students continue to make excellent progress when they transfer.

Students from Walton High regularly use their subject expertise and enterprise skills to work enthusiastically with children in partner schools. Many activities also take place at Walton High. Some of the joint ventures students were involved in during the last academic year include:

Beat the Boss - As part of this enterprise challenge students had to compete to create a "refreshing new drink for 7-11 year olds". The challenge included market research, designing the product and its packaging, producing the drink and making a presentation to a panel of expert judges and 120 Year 6 students! The team of Year 12 students from Walton High came a close second to the winners, a team of Year 6 students from Heronsgate School! One of the participants, Niamh from Heronsgate said, "It was fantastically brilliant making smoothies from what ever we wanted. I have learnt so much today and it was a great laugh!"

Sports Festivals - Children from the Walton Partnership in Year 1 to Year 6 have been involved in a range of festivals covering sports such as basketball, badminton, netball, tennis, rounders and cricket. The events were organised and run with the help of Walton High's Young Sports Leaders.

'The sports festivals have been a great success and provided opportunities for our younger students to try out new and exciting sports. They have particularly enjoyed working with the 'big' boys and girls at Walton High. The young sports leaders have provided highly professional leadership for the events they have been involved in and are a credit to Walton High" Sue Vint, Headteacher, St Mary's School.

Joint Advanced Learning Activities - A number of Year 5 students from St Mary's successfully completed their Bike-ability Level 1 course under the watchful eye of a Road Safety officer. The course was organised and led by two Post-16 Leisure & Recreation students and was based on the latest version of the cycling proficiency test for youngsters. Meanwhile other Year 5 students accompanied Walton High students to the Living Rainforest near Newbury to learn about life in the Amazon.

Performing Arts - For the second year running there was X Factor success for Wavendon Gate. Talented Year 6 students from Wavendon Gate School have won the competition two years running with outstanding performances. Daimen Upton, Walton High's Performance Director, who works with students from our partner schools' was very impressed with the enormous talent that the youngsters displayed again this year and is looking forward to them starring in future Walton High productions.

MK Reads Project - Volunteer students returned with great pride to their primary schools to participate in the MK Reads event. Students of all ages enjoyed sharing an afternoon reading and listening to stories.

The Walton High Band - made a guest appearance at St Mary's Church, Wavendon to provide musical entertainment at the village fete "It was a delight and a privilege to meet and listen to the band. They were certainly a credit to Walton High both through their playing and their interactions with the visitors to the fete. What a wonderful contribution the band made to the event." said Anne Atkinson Worship Steward, St Mary's Church, Wavendon.

Record results at high performing Post-16 Centre

Our Post-16 students have enjoyed a record breaking year with outstanding results across all subjects. Both the 100% pass rate and the 79% of grades awarded at A - C exceeded the national figures. Nearly 25% of students achieved at least one or more A grade at Advanced Level with three students gaining 3 A grades and 2 students being awarded 4 grade As.

Students are now able to take up offers from universities across the country to study for a wide range of subjects. Martin Walker's 4 A grades at A2 and one at AS will take him to Reading and Oklahoma Universities to study Meteorology. David Neale will be off to Oxford University to read Law. Tom Jamieson, who also achieved 4 A grades, will be studying Politics, Philosophy and Economics at Manchester. Those students who choose not to go to university will progress to training courses in such areas as Business and Media or have secured employment in their chosen careers.

This year's students progressing to university will be joining former Walton High students currently studying the Arts, Sciences, Medicine, Engineering and Performing Arts at Oxford, Warwick, Nottingham, Manchester, York, Bath, Edinburgh and Durham amongst others.

Walton High has a thriving 6th Form offering a full range of advanced level courses and an intermediate programme. We value each individual equally and work closely with students and parents to achieve excellence. Students are given opportunities to participate in many extra curricular activities including: Duke of Edinburgh's Award; Debating Society; Young Enterprise and social events organised by the Student Union.

Outstanding GCSE success

This year's Year 11 students enjoyed tremendous success with 71% of students achieving 5 or more A*-C grades. Attainment in the core subjects was very strong with 71% of all students gaining a C grade or higher in English and 65% doing the same in Maths. The separate sciences performed exceptionally well with Biology students achieving 91% of their grades in the A*-C range and 86% doing so in both Chemistry and Physics.

Walton High students also excelled in creative subjects with 92% of Drama students and 83% of Textiles students gaining the top grades. More than half of the Textiles students gained an A* or A grade.

Félicitations to students of French - 80% of whom achieved a C grade or better.

The Humanities also performed strongly with 29% of Geography and Philosophy and Ethics students achieving A* or A grades.

There were many outstanding individual performances. Seventeen students achieved 7 or more A* or A grades with Aaron Gill, Shonak Nathwani and Alison Reynolds achieving 8 or more A* grades.

Year 9 National Test Triumphs

Year 9 students were not to be outdone and celebrated the end of Key Stage 3 with their achievements in English, Maths and Science continuing to be amongst the best in the country.

Yamaha Music School

The Yamaha Music School at Walton High provides high quality musical education for students of all ages. Professional musicians are specially trained by Yamaha to ensure successful teaching on all courses.

Small group tuition provides students with an enjoyable musical experience throughout each lesson. Lessons are available from late afternoon onwards during the week and all day on Saturdays.

Students are prepared for examinations through the London School of Music, Rockschool and Associated Board of Music. Concerts are held on a regular basis at Stantonbury Theatre to provide students with the opportunity to perform in front of an audience.

Courses are available in Keyboard, Guitar, Vocals, Drums and Piano.

For further information contact Alison Shaw on 01908 528808.

Training School Opportunities

Teaching is one of the most rewarding professions to work in. For teachers no two days are the same. The variety, with new experiences and challenges every day, is a key factor in making it the enjoyable and fulfilling career it is. Few things are more rewarding than helping young people learn and contributing to making a positive difference to their lives.

In recognition of its high performing status, Walton High is a Training School. As such, Walton High offers on-the-job training via the graduate teacher programme (GTP). It's a good choice for people who want to change to a teaching career but need to continue earning whilst they train. The training salary is £14,751 p.a. Experienced qualified classroom teachers can earn up to £34,281 with Heads of Department earning up to £45,838. Training is full time and, depending on previous teaching experience, takes from three months to an academic year to complete. With the continued growth of Milton Keynes local career prospects for qualified teachers are excellent.

If you are a graduate interested in following a GTP route into teaching contact Sharon Alexander Vice Principal, on 01908 677954 for an informal discussion or email: recruitment@waltonhigh.org.uk

A second helping of education please

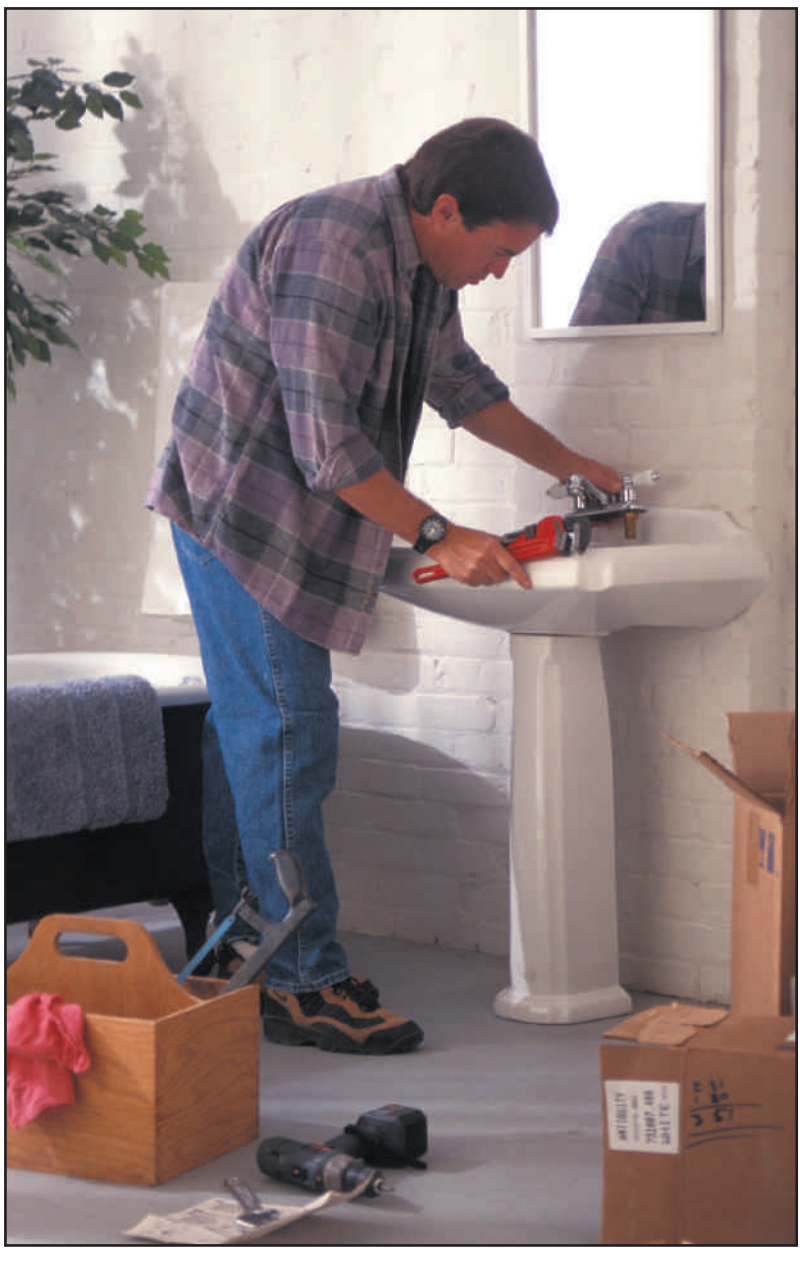
MORE and more people are returning to learning. It could be that you've had a couple of years out travelling, several years off due to illness or injury, or even that you've had eighteen years out having brought up a family. But many people are put off the idea because they didn't enjoy school the first time around.

You should know that returning to learning is nothing like going back to school. Detention, tasteless school dinners and writing lines are all off the agenda. The reasons for returning to learning are endless, as are the possibilities. Many people go back to education to learn new skills for a career change, or to assist them in getting a qualification. Others just need help with basic skills, or simply enjoy learning. And if the thought of exams makes you anxious then don't fret. Education can take many different forms, and on returning you could find yourself doing pair work, course work, portfolios or presentations instead. Most people are pleasantly surprised at how well they do the second time around.

The chances are that the skills you've developed in coping with everyday life will help you with your learning. Juggling time and responsibilities, solving problems and listening to people will all help you to be successful.

You will find that in returning to learning, everything is a lot more flexible than it was at school, and it can fit around your needs. Call Adults Continuing Education (ACE) at Milton Keynes Council on 01908 691691 for information on local courses.

They have hundreds of courses on offer at a range of levels to suit you. If it's a degree you're after, the Open University - the UK's biggest provider of distance learning - is based right here in Milton Keynes. Distance learning means that you study on your own, at home or wherever suits you. They have 580 courses for you to choose from, with students being supported by a tutor. Go to www.open.ac.uk for more information. You will be able to get plenty of help and support if you want to return to learning, for example through Directgov. You can call 0800 100 900 between 8am and 10pm seven days a week.



Train and retrain

CHANGING your career path can transform your life. Nobody is saying retraining is easy, but a new career could be your ticket to fulfilment. You spend such a big proportion of your life at work that waking up and looking forward to going in is a massive bonus. Perhaps you're a bored IT consultant who's always harboured a secret desire to cook for a living, or an office worker who feels you've learnt all you can from your current job. Maybe you have a talent that you feel is being wasted, or you could have just been made redundant. Redundancy might seem disappointing at the time, but why not use it as an opportunity to retrain? Starting a new profession is a huge step. Before you decide to take it it's wise to check that you're making the most of your current job. Could you go for a promotion? Get involved in more projects? Switch to a different department? You might want to have a new job lined up before you leave your current one.

Doing voluntary work can be a fantastic way of gaining experience and testing the water for a new career. Voluntary work is no longer reserved for fuddy-duddy old ladies who retired long ago. A voluntary work placement could arm you with new skills, help you make useful contacts, and it looks great on your CV. Go to www.do-it.org.uk for more information.

Doing a modern apprenticeship is another great way to gain new skills while earning at the same time. This learning-on-the-job method allows you to gain qualifications and work in the real world simultaneously. There are many apprenticeships available in Milton Keynes. They are mainly for people aged between 16 and 19-years-old, but some will accept people outside of this age bracket.

Over 80 different sectors of industry and commerce offer apprenticeships, ranging from media to construction and banking to hairdressing. Two levels - foundation and advanced - are available, and the apprentice works towards NVQ level two or three at their own pace. It usually lasts between 15 and 42 months. It means that industries get the trained employees they need. The minimum wage an employer is required to pay is £80 a week, but many pay over £8,000 a year.

If you're interested in doing an apprenticeship locally, there are several places to go for information. Milton Keynes College runs its apprenticeships from its Bletchley campus, or from its construction centre at Kiln Farm. The options include bricklaying, accounting, customer service, engineering, hospitality and catering, vehicle maintenance, watersport activity learning, business and administration, carpentry, catering, childcare, electrical, hairdressing, and IT. The college will also help you to find a job and notify you of any jobs employers have informed them of. For more information or to get an information pack go to www.mkcollege.co.uk or call 01908 684416.84331 and ask for our Apprenticeship Information Pack.

JHP Milton Keynes on Silbury Boulevard (01908 691712) offers apprenticeships in administration, customer service, retail, management, team leading and mentoring, distribution and warehousing, IT and accounting.

They are usually for people between 16 and 24-years-old but over 25s can do NVQ qualifications with JHP too.

Intec Business Colleges in Upper Fifth Street, central Milton Keynes, offers apprenticeships in administration, customer services, contact centre operations, distribution, warehouse and storage, management, retail and IT. Call them on 01908 690440 for more information.

Isis Training Services Ltd on Midsummer Boulevard helps companies with funding and recruiting engineering apprentices. Call them on 01908 847062 or visit www.isistraining.co.uk. Or for general information about apprenticeships, or to find out where there are apprenticeships available

Something to do of an evening

SPENDING night in night out glued to your TV set is enough to leave anyone feeling bored, fed up and antisocial. So why not get off your sofa and do something about it? Evening classes are the perfect way to add variety to your week while also giving you the opportunity to learn a new skill. And Milton Keynes certainly has its fair share of courses on offer. It could be that you've always fancied trying your hand at cake decorating or counselling, or that you love painting in your spare time but never thought of making it anything more than a hobby.

Perhaps you're a full-time mum who would love some time to yourself each week, a computer novice who feels left behind in this technological world, or a regular holiday goer who would like to be able to converse with attractive Spanish waiters more easily.

Whatever your reason, there's certainly a course locally to suit you. The more arty among us could go for something like cookery, drama, card making, dressmaking, belly dancing, Flamenco dancing or African drumming. Sports fanatics may fancy fencing or yoga, while those who feel they could do with brushing up on their basic skills might want to take English or maths lessons. Someone looking for something more unusual might opt for a course in facial beauty techniques or hypnotherapy.

Adult Continuing Education (ACE) is a council scheme designed to get or keep adults over 16-years-old in learning. It has more than 50 venues in the city, including Stantonbury Campus, with hundreds of different courses that start in either September or February. Ranging from GSCE's to IT and business courses, or lessons designed purely for pleasure, the chances are that ACE has something for you. This year over 7,000 students have enrolled, and ACE even offers courses for people who speak English as a second language.

People who do not have a GCSE grade A-C or an O-level in English or maths can take advantage of free classes in these subjects. When you phone ACE (01908 556703) to book onto a course, an adviser will complete a skills check to find out which course and level would be best for you. Alternatively you could call Nextstep (0800 1954 700), an information and advice helpline which can steer you in the right direction and inform you about local courses. Prices for evening courses vary and are based on guidelines given by the Learning and Skills Council. If online learning would be more suitable for you, Learndirect offers 750 flexible courses to help you learn about computers, office skills and self-development. For more information go to www.learndirect.co.uk. To find out if you are eligible for financial support or for reduced fees with ACE - for example if you're 16 to 25-years-old or on income support - go to www.milton-keynes.gov.uk.

Collect an ACE brochure from any MK library or the ACE office at 1 Cofferidge Close, Stony Stratford, MK11 1BY.
